Ashley Dahlen -> All Participants: Tip: In order to hear the presentation, you will need to connect your audio by either dialing in on the phone or by connecting through your computer speakers. To connect, click ~38quot;Audio~38quot; at the top and then ~38quot;Audio conference.~38quot; The pop up box will give you the two options to connect. Follow the instructions in the box.

James Jacobs -> All Participants: W00T! go CA!

Thomas Fischlschweiger -> All Participants: European Union is looking at ~38quot;smart speed limit~38quot; technology as we speak. Interactive with speed limit signs, GIS information, etc. Needles to say, the car knows exactly where you are at all times.

Jessica Fomalont -> All Participants: ALA has been really good about promoting privacy in libraries: <http://www.ala.org/advocacy/privacy/checklists> I wish we could encourage Facebook, Google, etc. to follow ALA.

James Jacobs -> All Participants: xkcd webcomic had a good one on passwords. <https://preshing.com/20110811/xkcd-password-generator/>

Eric Erickson -> All Participants: Changing your password regularly is a terrible idea. Having unrememberable passwords is a terrible idea. It increases the burden on the user so heavily that they resort to bad habits like keeping notebooks.

Deborah Mongeau -> All Participants: With letters, numbers, and special characters SuDoc Numbers make great passwords! Just pick your favorite documents!

Armando Da Silva -> All Participants: Deborah =has attained genius level

Jennifer Creevy -> All Participants: Deborah Mongeau I like that idea a lot!

Eric Erickson -> All Participants: FTC advises against force pw changes.

Eric Erickson -> All Participants: <https://www.ftc.gov/news-events/blogs/techftc/2016/03/time-rethink-mandatory-password-changes>

Ella Shurr -> All Participants: Just be sure you don't share your favorite document on social media! ;-)

James Jacobs -> All Participants: Thanks for the link Eric

Thomas Fischlschweiger -> All Participants: In Florida, per statute we are required to use protocols like that. We cannot access the records without a photo ID. Makes many phone transactions quite difficult.

Martha Ballinger -> All Participants: How do phone transactions work in that scenario? If someone calls and wants to know when their books are due, what do you do?

deborah rexon -> All Participants: Not giving titles of items - and assist patron in understanding how they can manage his/her account on line

Martha Ballinger -> All Participants: That makes sense.

deborah rexon -> All Participants: Or even ask them for a title of one of the books they have checked out ~38amp; verify due date

Kathy Hale -> All Participants: Our administration is asking us for statistics of who is using what to justify our existencce.

Martha Ballinger -> All Participants: Who is using what?

MARY BLOOMQUIST -> All Participants: Ask for the library card number, to verify they are the right person.

Thomas Fischlschweiger -> All Participants: They have to supply the inforamtion. They must supply the library account number, name and other info so we can look it up. But when someone calles and says they are on vacation and need their library card number so they can use e-books for example, we cannot give it to them. It's a delicate balance, and in Florida, there are statutes that cover some of this. As privacy concerns increase, those statutes may change...

deborah rexon -> All Participants: In the longrun, if I can't verify who you are to my satisfaction, I can't give you that information

Sarah Erikson -> All Participants: I was reviewing the statement ~38quot;FOIA notwithstanding, librarians should be aware that nearly all government information about private individuals or entities is barred by law from being released to anyone because of privacy restrictions.~38quot; and I felt like it was not that simple anymore. It really seems like an overly broad and out-dated statement.

Thomas Fischschweiger -> All Participants: At a DLC info session some years ago, some institutions were tracking docs usage online, but as part of setting up the system, the OPAC also tracked the user's individual account. We would never be allowed to do that here.

Jan Edmiston -> All Participants: Yes, I think that would be helpful to continue exploring this topic.

Holli Redden -> All Participants: Having a ~38quot;best practices~38quot; for anything is always good.

Asteria Ndulute -> All Participants: I agree, we need a policy on the privacy issue

deborah rexon -> All Participants: GPO items are available to all -general library privacy issues aren't really in the area

Kathy Hale -> All Participants: This would be helpful in writing policy for the library as a whole.

Mary Ann Ries -> All Participants: Yes, but internal Library policies may impact what we as a depository can do

Eric Erickson -> All Participants: Most interesting discussion so far.

Sarah Erikson -> All Participants: I do think we, as a FDLP community, need to discuss this further. Thanks Jane and Anthony for a great session.

Marion Scichilone -> All Participants: Any general info on how many attendees?

Kelly Seifert -> All Participants: We have over 500 registrants for the spring meeting, but we are averaging about 200 participants per session.

Marion Scichilone -> All Participants: thanks!

Lori -> All Participants: Around 200 at any given time.

Ashley Dahlen -> All Participants: All or Mostly Online Depository Libraries (Guidance) <https://www.fdlp.gov/requirements-guidance/guidance/2124-all-or-mostly-online-federal-depository-libraries>

Julia McKenna -> All Participants: Lack of space

Ella Shurr -> All Participants: s

Bernadette Johnson -> All Participants: Lack of use of print collection

Ella Shurr -> All Participants: Space!

Katelyn Baroody -> All Participants: Print documents are not being used much, would save us space!

Abigail Noland -> All Participants: Lack of use

Leigh Brown -> All Participants: Lack of staff and space.

Cassandra Sargent -> All Participants: agreed lack of use.

Margaret Sylvia -> All Participants: Lack of staff and space.

Elizabeth McClenney -> All Participants: use of print is absolutely minimal. Space continues to be an issue.

Caren Nichter -> All Participants: We have 5 satellite campuses, online students, also space issues.

Leigh Brown -> All Participants: Systemwide access

Kathryn Wesley -> All Participants: Space and staffing resources

JOCELYN BALDWIN -> All Participants: Lack of use, space issues,

James Jacobs -> All Participants: I wanted to answer both 2 and 3. That is, we've raised our digital holdings to 100% AND am keeping our 85% selection

Sarah Erikson -> All Participants: How did the Loudoun County board member find out that they lacked a FDL in the congressional district?

Thomas Fischschweiger -> All Participants: We are maintaining our profile, but it is currently more than 80% digital which not only cuts down on used space, but also processing time, weeding issues, etc.

Leigh Brown -> All Participants: How did you manage keeping the 5 years required for print materials before weeding?

Caren Nichter -> All Participants: In order to use the OCLC service, must you also have WMS as your ILS?

Katherine Paterson -> All Participants: @Caren, no! Ours is Ama/primo

Sarah Erikson -> All Participants: Thanks!

Caren Nichter -> All Participants: Thanks! Very good to know!

Leigh Brown -> All Participants: Thank you!

Leigh Brown -> All Participants: Yes.

Julie Mielke -> All Participants: Weeding. We add a nonpublic note to all 5-year only electronic titles at the time we upload our CRDP records and search (create-lists in iii-Sierra) by creation date AND that nonpublic note.

Leigh Brown -> All Participants: Thank you! Good info.

Patricia Siska -> All Participants: I think that even if a library wants to go all digital, it might still be useful to retain--or obtain if tangibles don't exist at the institution--some small part as tangible because tangibles can be used as a face for the digitible collection and in various other promotional ways in the future. One might retain some tangible items important and of use to your community.

Leigh Brown -> All Participants: That would be wonderful!

Vicki Tate -> All Participants: Yeah! Cass for bringing this up.

Amy Rudberg -> All Participants: If we're planning to go digital-only, how should we handle titles/item numbers not available digitally? What should we do with the print?

Kathy Hale -> All Participants: Make sure when people are discarding that they remember the preservation stewards who may want, especially older materials, to get them for their collections.

Amy Rudberg -> All Participants: Thank you!

Leigh Brown -> All Participants: Great session! Thank you!

Kris Abery -> All Participants: Excellent session. Thanks

JOCELYN BALDWIN -> All Participants: Great session, good information.

Marion Scichilone -> All Participants: is next session at 3:30?

Marion Scichilone -> All Participants: my screen is white, that's why i am asking

Ashley Dahlen -> All Participants: The next session is at 3:30, you shouldn't have a white screen though! You should see the slide deck for the DLC Closing Session. If you don't, perhaps closing out and reentering the webinar will fix it?

Marion Scichilone -> All Participants: will try, thanks!

Jenny Groome -> All Participants: do you have the break music playing? I logged in with audio through computer - so I'm just checking that I'm set

Jenny Groome -> All Participants: thanks!

Ashley Dahlen -> All Participants: GPO's Digization (LibGuide) can be found at: <https://libguides.fdlp.gov/GPODigitization>

Jenny Groome -> All Participants: I think many people thought the message about keeping historic url was clear - the feedback spoke for many people (in my opinion only)

Jenny Groome -> All Participants: Will subject headings harvested from MODS, etc. - will they be standard subject headings, or will that be a step after pulling metadata?

Jenny Groome -> All Participants: So if on GitHub, does a library then have to upload to WorldCat?

Jenny Groome -> All Participants: I mean library holdings added to WorldCat record

Jenny Groome -> All Participants: thanks

Jenny Groome -> All Participants: yes

Jenny Groome -> All Participants: thgakns
