Buckley, Government Information/Reference Librarian, Dimond Library, University of New Hampshire</li> <li>• David Walls, Preservation Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li> </ul> Federal depository libraries are collaborating in new ways within and across regions. Collection development and preservation projects abound; pilot strategies and FDLPeXchange make our work new yet again. So how are these efforts helping to build a distributed national collection? This program builds on past DLC sessions about comprehensive collections as we learn about practices at several depositories. Through lively discussion, this session will inspire attendees to contribute content, services, and expertise.

Tuesday, April 16

1:00-2:00 pm	Digital Deposit: A Value Proposition <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Heather Christenson, Program Officer for Federal Documents and Collections, HathiTrust Digital Library</li> <li>• James Jacobs, U.S. Government Information Librarian, Stanford University Libraries</li> <li>• Jessica Tieman, Digital Preservation Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>• Cass Hartnett, U.S. Documents Librarian, Suzzallo Library, University of Washington Libraries</li> <li>• Tom Fischlschweiger, Senior Librarian, Broward County Main Library</li> <li>• Robbie Sittel, Head of the Eagle Commons Library, University of North Texas</li> </ul> This session aims to define and demonstrate value of digital deposit for the FDL community. Though discussion of digital deposit has been circulating in the FDL community since the early 2000s, a recent Council recommendation and GPO-proposed pilot project are adding momentum to this model. This session also seeks feedback from the community regarding the value of digital deposit and problems it could solve regarding digital content for FDLs and the public we keep informed.

2:00-2:15 pm	Break
2:15-3:15 pm	Preserving the National Collection: Services for Depository Libraries <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Cindy Etkin, Senior Programming Planning Specialist (Librarian), Office of the Superintendent of Documents, GPO</li> <li>• Elizabeth McDaniel, Depository Coordinator, Earl Gregg Swem Library, College of William and Mary</li> <li>• David Walls, Preservation Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li> </ul> The Superintendent of Documents (SOD) can only ensure permanent public access to both the tangible and digital collections that make up the National Collection of U.S. Government Information by preserving it. Because GPO does not have a library collection, the National Collection is necessarily a distributed collection with holdings in depository libraries. This situation presents challenges to overcoming some unknowns about the collection. Join this session to hear how pilot projects will help provide answers, while at the same time laying the foundation for the SOD to provide continuing preservation services for Federal depository libraries.
3:15-3:30 pm	Break
3:30-4:30 pm	LSCM Project Updates <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Laurie B. Hall, Superintendent of Documents, Managing Director of LSCM, GPO</li> <li>• Lisa Russell, Senior Program Analyst, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>• Melissa Fairfield, Planning Specialist</li> <li>• Jessica Tieman, Digital Preservation Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>• Susan Miller, Organizational Architect, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>• David Walls, Preservation Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>• Suzanne Ebanues, Supervisory Management Analyst, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>• Megan Minta, Collection Development Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li> </ul> Join staff members from GPO's LSCM for updates on some of the major initiatives and projects being undertaken in support of the Federal Depository Library Program and Cataloging &amp; Indexing Program.

Wednesday, April 17

1:00-2:00 pm	Securing Information, Protecting Privacy, Providing Access: Legal Constructs and Library Impacts <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Jane Canfield, Coordinator of Federal Documents, Pontifical Catholic University of Puerto Rico</li> <li>• Anthony D. Smith, Chief of Projects &amp; Systems, LSCM, GPO</li> </ul>

	How can FDLP libraries, or any other libraries, manage to offer secure and authoritative information, ensure user privacy of data, and help protect how users access and use information? This session will take a look at current laws and regulations that focus on security and the impact on user privacy. It will also seek to provide insight on how libraries are managing in the new era of privacy.
2:00-2:15 pm	Break
2:15-3:15 pm	Digital-Only Depository Libraries: The Triumphs and the Challenges <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Stephen Parks, State Librarian, State Law Library of Mississippi</li> <li>• Leah Bromser-Kloeden, Division Manager of Collection Management Services, Loudoun County Public Library</li> <li>• Katherine Paterson, Civic Engagement Librarian, Loyola University Chicago</li> <li>• Lara Flint, Outreach Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>• Yvonne D. Williams, Cataloging Specialist, Serials/Government Publications, Memphis Public Libraries</li> </ul> As the FDLP has transitioned to a primarily electronic or digital program, new FDLP libraries like Loudoun County Public Library have joined as digital-only, choosing not to receive any tangible resources; other depositories, like Loyola University Chicago, are moving, or plan to move, in this same direction. A Council working group is examining what it means to be a digital-only depository and what effect this new model has on FDLP guidance and services as we work toward our vision “to provide Government information when and where it is needed.” Join us in this session to share your thoughts, ask your questions, and to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Learn from the practices of a digital-only Depository Coordinator.</li> <li>• Understand the preparation necessary to transition to a digital-only library.</li> <li>• Discover what the working group has learned and their next steps.</li> </ul>
3:15-3:30 pm	Break
3:30-4:30 pm	DLC Closing Session In this closing session, DLC Chair Lori Thornton and Chair Elect Mary S. Clark will moderate a discussion with the Depository Library Council, GPO staff, and the FDLP community on the following topics: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• DLC Fall 2018 Recommendations &amp; GPO Responses.</li> <li>• Issues the DLC will be focusing on in the next year.</li> <li>• Open Forum: Q&amp;A with the FDLP Community.</li> </ul>
