We are reintroducing the team responsible for outreach to depository libraries. The Outreach & Support (O&S) is now known as the Federal Depository Support Services (FDSS).

The FDSS staff includes an administrative librarian as well as librarians who have experience working in several different types of Federal depository libraries. The unit works on a variety of projects within GPO, including: Biennial Surveys, educational programs and webinars, in-person and virtual conferences, and Public Access Assessments. Most importantly, in cooperation with regional depository libraries as points of contact, FDSS aims to help the Federal Depository Library Program (FDLP) operate smoothly and efficiently by assisting the entire network of depository librarians across the country with any issues or questions they may have.

WHAT WE DO

- Consultation and information exchange
- Advise libraries on depository operations
- Training
- Outreach to Libraries
- Biennial Surveys
- Assessments
- Library Visits

CONTACT US

askGPO

- https://ask.gpo.gov
- The askGPO service allows people to ask questions of GPO. The service will automatically route the question to the correct contact within GPO.
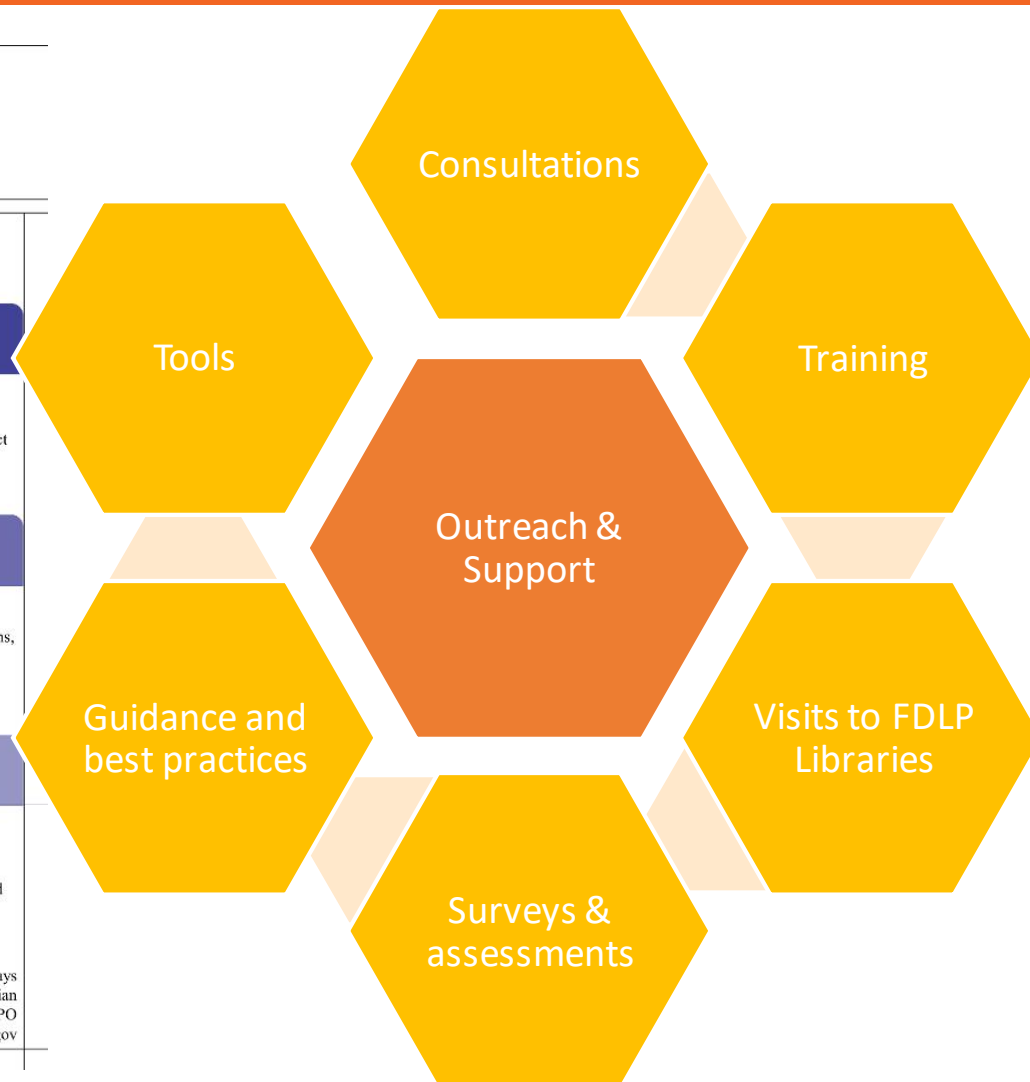

FDLPOutreach@gpo.gov

- Use this email to contact FDSS directly.
- You can send information about closing, remodels, questions about rules and regulations, and general advice or consultation.

202-512-1119

- This is the phone number to reach FDSS directly.
- This is a shared line among all the outreach librarians.
- Contact use for urgent matters or if you would like to discuss a situation directly with an outreach librarian.
