- Can I subscribe to alerts in multiple languages?: "You can. Once you set your language preference, you will visit the Google Alerts homepage and create alerts in that language. If the Google Alerts homepage appears in English, then chances are that the language you selected is not yet supported. We are continuously working on adding support for additional languages."
- I'd like to receive Google Alerts in plain text rather than HTML. Can I do that?: "Yes. To change the format of your emails from HTML to plain text, you'll need to sign in to your Google Account and go to the 'Manage your Alerts' page. Please note that Video Alerts require you to receive email in HTML format."
- Can I change my email address and still get Google Alerts?: "Yes. We recommend that you associate your new email address with your Google Account. To add an email address to your Google Account, visit your account page and edit the 'Email address' section. You can then go to the 'Manage your Alerts' page, select the check-box next to each alert and use the 'Send to' option to change the email address they are delivered to."

Real Time Google Analytics

"What's happening on your site right now?: The web is getting faster, and not just the speed of the pages, but also the speed of change. Before, it was fine to build a website and modify it only when new products were launched. All of us avid Analytics users know that's just not good enough. We need to be constantly on the lookout for problems and opportunities.

Currently, Google Analytics does a great job analyzing past performance. Today we're very excited to bring real time data to Google Analytics with the launch of Google Analytics Real-Time: a set of new reports that show what's happening on your site as it happens."

Qualità ed emozioni alla Festa della Pizza di Salerno, per un'edizione..unica Photo Comment

Scritto da Ludovica La Rocca
Sabato 10 Settembre 2011 00:00

Un'edizione realmente unica questa quattordicesima della Festa della Pizza di Salerno, che ha saputo contrarre il suo lungo e importante percorso approdando in un format ancora una volta decisamente convincente. Qualità è a parola d'ordine che ogni sera è possibile constatare tra gusto e musica, in un percorso intimo e di grande convivialità facilmente leggibile in questa calda settimana della pizza.

I più importanti maestri pizzaioli presenti all'evento campano Patrimonio d'Italia, sono circondati da una splendida cornice canora che completa il percorso degustativo ed emotazionale nei giardini di Pontecagnano Faiano. Ieri sera, sul palco del villaggio delle pizze, ospite d'eccezione Virginio, astro vincente del talent di "Amici", accolto da un bagni di folla presente dalle prime ore del pomeriggio
