

Depository Library Council Meeting and Federal Depository Library Conference

April 30 – May 2, 2014

Rev. 4/24/14

U.S. Government Printing Office, 732 North Capitol St., NW, Washington, DC 20401

FINAL AGENDA

WEDNESDAY, April 30

- | | | |
|-------------|--|-------------------------------|
| 8:30 – 9:00 | Registration | Harding Hall
Foyer |
| 8:30 – 9:00 | Coffee with Council | Cafeteria |
| 9:00 - 9:45 | Library Services and Content Management Meet and Greet <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Jane Sánchez, Director, Library Services & Content Management, GPO• Laurie Hall, Director, Library Technical Services, LSCM, GPO• Robin Haun-Mohamed, Director, Outreach and Support, LSCM, GPO• Anthony D. Smith, Director, Projects and Systems, LSCM, GPO Meet LSCM staff and learn more about this GPO unit that manages the Federal Depository Library Program and the Cataloging and Indexing Program. This is the first presentation of the program. It repeats at 9:45 am. | Harding Hall |
| 9:00 – 9:45 | Quick Topics. Four lightning round presentations:

Opening the nation's appellate courts <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Matt Gruhn, The Oyez Project at Chicago-Kent For over 20 years, the Oyez project has helped inform the public about the work of the Supreme Court of the United States. Now, it aims to do the same for the nation's appellate courts by assembling a consortium of public-spirited institutions to share in the work of maintaining the archive. This presentation will discuss the project, its collection, and how you can help it grow.
Let's talk about USA.gov and the Lesson Plan <ul style="list-style-type: none">• James Rhoades, Old Dominion University Despite all the various content and tools available to incorporate in any given library lesson plan, academic federal depository librarians find relief in knowing the power and utility of USA.gov. Yet, many of our colleagues have not discovered the many benefits of this resource. But what if, instead of hoping they discover it on their own, we take the time | Carl Hayden to tell and show our colleagues and users the critical role government resources can and do play in their lives?
Room |

This session will encourage and motivate depository librarians and staff by discussing the importance of electronic government portals, highlighting the necessity of raising student awareness, and demonstrating easy and innovative approaches to introduce USA.gov to colleagues and users. After the session, those attending will be inspired to make USA.gov part of their institute's library instruction curriculum.

The Apps are Coming! Investigating Popular Government Information Apps

- Brandon Bowen, Indiana University-Purdue University Fort Wayne
Understanding apps on smartphones and tablets is essential for the information professional, though how do you discern which apps are essential and which are just background noise? This presentation aims to explore the most useful government information apps and discuss strategies for integrating this exciting technology into daily professional use.

A Formal Mentoring Program Under Construction

- Netta Cox, North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University

According to a recent Federal Depository Library program (FDLP) 2013 Forecast Study Data Report, 55% of the respondents communicated they would participate in a mentoring program held by the Government Printing Office (GPO). The response rate shows a need for a formal mentoring program for new and existing coordinators. This presentation will examine best practices to follow when implementing a formal mentoring program.

9:45 – 10:30

Library Services and Content Management Meet and Greet

Harding Hall

- Jane Sánchez, Director, Library Services & Content Management, GPO
- Laurie Hall, Director, Technical Services, LSCM, GPO
- Robin Haun-Mohamed, Director, Outreach and Support, LSCM, GPO
- Anthony D. Smith, Director, Projects and Systems, LSCM, GPO

A repeat of the 9:00 am program. Meet LSCM staff and learn more about this GPO unit that manages the Federal Depository Library Program and the Cataloging and Indexing Program.

9:45 – 10:30

Government Information Online and the Future of Reference Services in the Depository Library System

Carl Hayden Room

- John Shuler, University of Illinois at Chicago

An overview of the last six years of the national digital reference service "Government Information Online" and the implications for providing electronic reference services among depository libraries, across communities and states. Suggestions of how the lessons learned from the GIO experience might influence the future practice of depository library reference service.

10:30 – 11:00	Break	Cafeteria
10:30 – 4:00	Poster Presentation	Bookstore
11:00 - 12:30	Depository Library Council Meeting Kickoff with Public Printer and Superintendent of Documents <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Davita Vance-Cooks, Public Printer of the United States, GPO • Mary Alice Baish, Superintendent of Documents, GPO • Arlene Weible, Depository Library Council Chair, Oregon State Library Keynote presentations and 2013 and 2014 Library of the Year awards. Note – This session will be available through GPO’s eLearning platform.	Harding Hall (Plenary)
12:30 - 2:00	Lunch Break On Your Own
1:00 - 2:00	ALA GODORT Open Meeting - Digitization and Preservation of Government Documents <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Bernadine Abbott Hoduski, ALA GODORT Legislation Chair • Walter Cybulski, National Library of Medicine • James Jacobs, ALA GODORT Legislation Committee Member • Suzanne Sears ALA GODORT Chair • Mark Sweeney, Library of Congress Speakers to discuss efforts to bring the community together on digitization initiatives for preservation of born digital government information.	Carl Hayden Room
2:00 - 3:30	FDLP Forecast Study Report: Summary and Recommendations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mary Alice Baish, Superintendent of Documents, GPO • Jane Sánchez, Director, Library Services & Content Management, GPO • Cindy Etkin, Office of Superintendent of Documents, GPO Join us as we review and discuss the recommendations, goals, and objectives resulting from analysis of the input you provided GPO through the library and state questionnaires and the State Focused Action Plans. Note – The audio portion of this session will be available through GPO’s eLearning platform.	Harding Hall
2:00 – 2:45	Art and Maps in the Serial Set <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Andrea Sevetson, ProQuest • Diane Smith, George Mason University The Serial Set is a lot of things to a lot of people, but some of the most remarked upon items within the Serial Set are the art work and the maps. The presenters will discuss the approach to the material and show materials examined for book chapters (from the book, The Serial Set: Its Make-up and Content) on the art and maps in the Serial Set.	Training Room 1
2:00 – 3:30	Cloud Computing <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Michael Samson, Wayne State University This session will introduce the audience to a single cloud web page	Training Room 2 presence (any platform, any device) that provides real-time customized government documents alerts (in over 70 languages) based on depository library needs.

This cloud web page brings together a combination of government information (persistent searches/bibliographies and customized gadgets/widgets/feeds for government agencies websites/social media/etc., library catalog, Google Scholar, WorldCat, major newspapers and journals) and several Google cloud computing products (Alerts, Blogger, Custom Search Engine, Drive, Google+, News, Sites, Translator, YouTube).

Goal: attendees will learn how to combine in innovative ways cloud & mobile computing products with traditional library resources and services in order to create customized government documents alert services for the regional/selective depository needs

Outcome 1: attendees will identify the advantages of cloud computing and open source resources over traditional library delivery of computing resources and services.

Outcome 2: attendees will learn about several cloud/mobile applications and library gadgets/widgets for the delivery of customized government documents library alerts to any platform, any device, anytime, anywhere.

2:00 – 2:45

Creating a Census/GIS Training Program

- Laura Sare, Texas A&M University

GIS is becoming more popular in class work at universities and students often request assistance at the library. Recognizing this need, the Libraries at Texas A&M University developed a workshop that addresses student needs for understanding Census geography and data, and how to prepare data for use in GIS software. This presentation describes the workshop and provides insights for other libraries wanting to develop more outreach opportunities. This program was developed with Miram Olivares at Texas A&M University.

Carl Hayden
Room

2:45 – 3:30

A New Home for Our Serial Set

- Karen Russ, University of Arkansas at Little Rock

In today's world of digital access, so many historic volumes are being digitized and dumped. Central Arkansas decided that while we wanted full text, online access to the scrapbooks of Congress, we did not want to discard our hardcopy U.S. Congressional Serial Set once the digital contract was signed. Join the documents librarian from the University of Arkansas at Little Rock (UALR) to explore the cooperative efforts between the UALR Ottenheimer Library, UALR Bowen School of Law Library, and the Sequoyah National Research Center as they come together to archive the bound volumes and purchase the online edition. While cooperative holding agreements are not new, this one has a twist in that the new holding location will be for archival purposes and there are no such agreements in GPO's files.

Training
Room 1

2:45 – 3:30	College Students and the U.S. Census <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Scott Schaffer, University of Vermont According to the United States Census Bureau, "College students living away from their parental home while attending college in the U.S. (living either on-campus or off-campus) are counted at the on-campus or off-campus residence where they live and sleep most of the time." Census data on population, poverty, racial diversity, and other variables is significantly affected by the inclusion of college students at their "home away from home." This presentation will include a discussion of some of the most important ramifications and raise issues to think about when working with census data including a substantial number of college students.	Carl Hayden Room
4:00 – 5:30	National Plan for the Future of the FDLP <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mary Alice Baish, Superintendent of Documents, GPO • Cindy Etkin, Office of Superintendent of Documents, GPO The strategic direction for the Program will be presented at this session. Guided by your Forecast responses and focused discussion, learn about the vision of the Program for the digital age and join the discussion of how we will achieve it. Note – The audio portion of this session will be available through GPO's eLearning platform.	Harding Hall (Plenary)
5:30 – 6:30	Public Printer Davita Vance-Cooks Open House <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • GPO Management Team Meet the Public Printer and GPO Senior Management.	Room C808
7:00	GPO History Exhibit closes (special late hours on this day during the conference)	GPO Main Entrance

THURSDAY, May 1

8:30 – 9:00	Coffee with Council	Cafeteria
9:00 – 4:00	Poster Presentation	Bookstore
9:00 – 9:45	LSCM Update <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Jane Sánchez, Director, Library Services & Content Management, GPO • Laurie Hall, Director, Library Technical Services, LSCM, GPO • Robin Haun-Mohamed, Director, Outreach and Support, LSCM, GPO • Anthony Smith, Director, Projects and Systems, LSCM, GPO Update about current projects and other activities in Library Services and Content Management. Note – The audio portion of this session will be available through GPO's eLearning platform.	Harding Hall

9:00 – 9:45	Marketing Through Events <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Susanne Caro, University of Montana How do you get the public excited about government documents? Learn how Mansfield Library is using a series of lectures and workshops to highlight their collection to students, faculty and the community. Find out how easy it is for your library to do the same.	Training Room 1
9:00 – 9:45	Gov Docs as Primary Sources: Documents for History Students <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mark Love, University of Central Missouri There are a myriad of U.S. government documents that have been digitized by a variety of institutions, including government agencies and universities. These documents often are of great historical importance and can be utilized by history students in many college-level courses. This presentation will highlight some historically-significant documents that have been digitized and how they can be marketed to college students.	Training Room 2
9:00 – 9:45	The Office of Scientific and Technical Information – Refocusing and Rebalancing <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Tim Byrne, Office of Scientific and Technical Information, U.S. Department of Energy The Dept. of Energy Office of Scientific and Technical Information (OSTI) has recently refocused and rebalanced its products to be more in line with its primary mission of acquisition and distribution of DOE sponsored research. As a result, several products have been discontinued. This session will focus on which OSTI products are no longer available and which products you need to be using in the future. Note – This program will be recorded and available after the conference in the Webinar archive.	Carl Hayden Room
9:45 – 10:30	Library Services and Content Management Open Forum <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Jane Sánchez, Director, Library Services & Content Management, GPO • Laurie Hall, Director, Library Technical Services, LSCM, GPO • Robin Haun-Mohamed, Director, Outreach and Support, LSCM, GPO • Anthony Smith, Director, Projects and Systems, LSCM, GPO Questions and answers about LSCM operational issues. Come prepared to ask your pressing questions. Note – The audio portion of this session will be available through GPO's eLearning platform.	Harding Hall
9:45 – 10:30	Indiana's First Government Information Day! <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Brandon Bowen, Indiana University – Purdue University Fort Wayne • Kimberly Brown-Harden, Indiana State Library • Cindy Dabney, Indiana University Maurer School of Law GID13 was a day for Information professionals and the general public to learn about government information, hot topics, and best practices from a variety of government information professionals. GID13 included panel discussions, poster sessions, vendors, and addresses from various state	Training Room 1 and federal agencies. Come and learn how you can also bring government information to life in your own libraries/regions.

9:45 – 10:30	Getting “Real” with Government Publications: Making Government Information Relevant to Academic Library Users Using Real Life <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Joyce Garczynski, Towson University • Carl P. Olson, Towson University Depository librarians, especially in academic institutions, continually face the challenge of how to market government information to a distracted or uninterested student body. Many outreach efforts focus on promoting the value of documents for research, but many information sources can be particularly relevant outside the classroom. Come and learn how to raise interest by highlighting federal and state information sources that help students navigate real life!	Training Room 2
9:45 – 10:30	USPTO – How to Help Inventors, Students and Businesses with their Patent and Trademark Questions <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Neil Massong, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (check with Lara) This presentation will provide an overview of the wealth of intellectual property information available on the USPTO website and familiarize you with ways to help library users. Turner will highlight the Patent and Trademark Resource Center program, a go-to referral for questions you and your users have on patent and trademark searching.	Carl Hayden Room
10:30 – 11:00	Break	Cafeteria
10:30 – 11:00	Poster Session	Bookstore
11:00 – 12:30	Council Session – Streamlining the Disposal Process: Making it Easier for Everyone <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Hallie Pritchett, Depository Library Council Member, University of Georgia • Larry Romans, Depository Library Council Member, Vanderbilt University Topics will include what we can do to make discarding easier under current Title 44 regulations and how we would like those regulations to change in order to expedite discarding documents—from the perspectives of both regional and selective depositories. We will give a brief history of the discard process, and talk about the wide variety of interpretations and misconceptions people have about what is and isn't allowed. Note – The audio portion of this session will be available through GPO's eLearning platform.	Harding Hall
11:00 – 12:30	Developing a Statewide Digitization Program <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Jan Swanbeck, University of Florida • Mark Phillips, University of North Texas • Kirsten Clark, University of Minnesota • Rich Gause, University of Central Florida • Lori Driver, Florida International University 	Training Room 1

The State Action Plan Developed by librarians in Florida, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands calls for the creation of a digital collection of federal documents that are of interest to the residents of this region. To assist in the formulation of the plan, Jan Swanbeck, the Regional Librarian requested funding from the University of Florida to bring four experts to campus for a three day meeting. This program reprises these presentations: the development of selection criteria (Mark Phillips, University of North Texas), the implementation of a distributed digitization model (Lori Driver, Florida International University), the effective use of online meeting software (Kirsten Clark, University of Minnesota), and the utilization of LibGuides to disseminate the digital collections (Rich Gause, University of Central Florida) along with an overview by Jan Swanbeck.

- | | | |
|---------------|--|-------------------------|
| 11:00 – 11:45 | Discovery Systems? Or Gov Docs Usage Decreasing Systems? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Kathryn C. Millis, DePauw University Web scale "discovery" systems, to which many libraries are quickly moving, can increase researchers' access to government documents, or can instead hide them, decreasing, perhaps even decimating, your patrons ability to find and use government information. I'll share my experiences using Ex Libris's PRIMO, and some brief comparisons with Ebsco's EDS and WorldCat. I will not promote, endorse, or recommend any product or vendor, but will suggest steps that gov doc librarians can take to make these valuable resources available to all who need and have a right to use them. | Training Room 2 |
| 11:00 - 11:45 | Defense Technical Information Center – Traditional Resources and 21st Century Innovations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Helen Q. Sherman, Defense Technical Information Center • Wendy S. Hill, Defense Technical Information Center DTIC aggregates information and data from multiple Defense sources and makes this available to the public with expanded options for eligible users. New tools and data are now available as traditional collections continue to grow. Learn more about resources and methodologies for locating and providing Defense information on science, technology, research, engineering, military, and increasingly in social science areas, for your needs. The session will cover resources, how to find and access them, and some new options. Note – This program will be recorded and available after the conference in the Webinar archive. | Carl Hayden Room |
| 11:45 – 12:30 | Googling for Gov Info: Tips for Using Google Effectively <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sonnet Ireland, University of New Orleans Google isn't the dirty word many educators think it is. As a government information librarian, Google can actually be your best friend. Come learn how to use Google in ways you've never dreamed possible. | Training Room 2 |
| 11:45 – 12:30 | U.S. Census Bureau: Building a 21st Century Digital Data <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lisa Wolfisch | Carl Hayden Room |

- Alexandra Figueroa

This program will present ways the U.S. Census Bureau is transforming how data and information are disseminated online. Will be highlighting a redesigned Web site with new and improve navigation and presenting new and upcoming data tools and mobile applications.

12:30 - 2:00

Lunch Break On Your Own (Regional/Selective Suggested Lunch)

2:00 – 3:30

Council Session – The Comprehensive Preservation Plan for Government Documents: A Discussion of NAPA Recommendation #3

Harding Hall

- Stephanie Braunstein, Depository Library Council Member, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge
- Marie Concannon, Depository Library Council Member, University of Missouri
- Kate Irwin-Smiler, Depository Library Council Member, Wake Forest University School of Law

In January 2013, after a ten-month study conducted at the request of Congress, the National Academy of Public Administration (NAPA) concluded that GPO “should work with depository libraries and other library groups to develop a comprehensive plan for preserving the print collection of government documents,” including cataloging and digitizing. In this presentation, we will hear from a variety of individuals about the elements that go into such a national plan, and the partnerships that will help make it happen.

Note – The audio portion of this session will be available through GPO’s eLearning platform.

2:00 – 3:30

Next Gen FDsys

Training Room 1

Speakers from the Office of Program, Strategy, and Technology, GPO

- Alec Bradley
- Amanda Colvin
- Jon Quandt
- Joann Sharp

Want a sneak peek at an early prototype of the next generation of FDsys? Come be part of the iterative design process with the FDsys Team! Planned next generation features include a responsive user interface, new search engine, easy access to related content, and improved usability.

2:00 – 3:30

Taking It Online: How to Survive Planning a Virtual Depository Conference

Training Room 2

- Janet Fisher, Arizona State Library, Archives and Public Records
- Margaret (Peggy) Jobe, University of Colorado, Boulder
- Christopher C. Brown, University of Denver
- Dan Stanton, Arizona State University Libraries

Introduction to planning and implementing virtual collaborative meetings of documents librarians and staff, and other librarians interested in government information.

If you have thought about putting together a virtual conference, bring your colleagues and use this time to discuss possibilities. We will provide an overview and introduce important topics in planning these conferences, followed by facilitated table discussions with experts from the Six State Virtual Government Information Conference.

2:00 – 2:45	Centers for Medicare & Medicare Services (CMS) – Resources to Support Library Outreach and Education <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lynne Johnson, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services • Susie Butler, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services Libraries are a critical link in the community for providing health information. Learn about resources and tools available to librarians to assist customer seeking information on the various CMS programs such as the Affordable Care Act and Medicare program. Note – This program will be recorded and available after the conference in the Webinar archive.	Carl Hayden Room
2:45 – 3:30	Administration for Community Living – Maximizing Independence and Well-being across the Lifespan <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Shakia Baskerville, MPH, Public Affairs Specialist The Administration for Community Living was designed to increase access to community supports for older Americans and people with disabilities, as well as for their families and caregivers. The presentation will provide an overview of the services offered by ACL and will detail how our website provides information on resources that engage, educate, and empower the community. Note – This program will be recorded and available after the conference in the Webinar archive.	Carl Hayden Room
3:30 – 4:00	Break	Cafeteria
3:30 – 4:00	Poster Session	Bookstore
4:00	Poster Presentation closes	Bookstore
4:00 – 5:30	Council Session – Education Initiatives: Where we are and where we are going <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Steve Beleu, Depository Library Council Member, Oklahoma Department of Libraries • Rosemary LaSala, Depository Library Council Member, St. John's University School of Law • Cindy Etkin, Office of Superintendent of Documents, GPO • Kelly Seifert, Library Services and Content Management, GPO Join us for an update on GPO's education-related activities, including reviewing the prototypes of the new Training Resource Registry, Training Calendar, and Subject Matter Expert Locator. GPO will demonstrate these tools to us, and attendees will be invited to comment on them and offer suggestions for their future revision. Note – The audio portion of this session will be available through GPO's eLearning platform.	Harding Hall

4:00 – 4:45

HathiTrust 101

- Kirsten Clark, University of Minnesota
- Catherine Morse, University of Michigan
- Amy Springer, University of Minnesota

Mix together government publications, one elephant, a herd of users, and what do you get? The starting point for finding online historical government information! Many have heard of HathiTrust but not all have learned the best ways to search through the over 450,000 scanned government publications found within its database. Join these three depository librarian presenters (from HathiTrust partner libraries) to find out the best search strategies! See how libraries are using the content to meet the needs of their users! Learn how researchers are building information research capacities that go beyond just downloading the full text! Leave with a better understanding of HathiTrust's capabilities now and into the future!

Training
 Room 1

4:00 – 4:45

Bullying at School and at Work: Government Resources Can Help/
 Bullying en la Escuela y el Trabajo: Los Recursos de Gobierno
 Puedan Ayudar

- Jane Canfield, Pontificia Universidad Católica de Puerto Rico
Many of us now working in the library profession were those nerdy children who were bullied by others in the schoolyard. Over 50% of school children and employees report having experienced some form of school or workplace bullying or harassment. Members of minority groups are harassed more often than others. Bullying remains a problem for school children and for many employees in 2014.

This bilingual presentation will explore available government information on harassment in a variety of formats and from both legal and mental health perspectives. Information presented will cover both school and workplace bullying from elementary school level to current scientific investigations of the topic. Emphasis will be given to Spanish language publications available about bullying, along with highlighting important government websites in both Spanish and English. Information available on the prevention and control of school and workplace harassment will also be presented. State and local government resources and laws on bullying and harassment will also be addressed. A few non-profit organizations which provide resources on bullying will also be explored.

For anyone who has been bullied or is currently being bullied or provides library services to a vulnerable population group, this presentation will provide valuable information. The presentation will also be of use to those who serve Spanish speaking populations.

Training
 Room 2

4:00 – 5:30

Office of the Federal Register – Looking Under the Hood: The Mechanics of Federal Rulemaking

- Jim Hemphill, Office of the Federal Register

The newspaper headline states "U.S. shoots down 'seismic air guns' in search for offshore oil." Can you translate this for your customers? Jim Hemphill, of the Office of the Federal Register, takes you on a tour of the mechanics of the Federal regulatory process. The workshop covers the

Carl Hayden
 Room

Federal Regulatory process as embodied in the public laws, the Federal Register, and the Code of Federal Regulations, and focuses on the documentation of Federal regulatory actions.

Note – This program will be recorded and available after the conference in the Webinar archive.

4:45 – 5:30	Identifying the Government Documents Corpus: the HathiTrust Registry <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Valerie Glenn, University of Michigan As a part of its ongoing attempt to provide expanded coverage and enhanced access to US government information, HathiTrust has embarked on an initiative to build a metadata registry for the comprehensive corpus of US federal documents. The registry will contain information about materials in all formats, from 1789 to the present, at the item level. This presentation will give an overview of the project, including discussions about scope, metadata sources, registry functionality and potential uses, as well as activities to-date.	Training Room 1
4:45 – 5:30	Government Documents Librarian: The Utility Infielder of the Library <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Donna Daniels, University of Arkansas, Fayetteville Reorganizations, retirements and reductions are the new normal for most libraries. Many libraries no longer have a full service government documents librarian. Research assistance is handled by reference and technical processing is handled by cataloging. Documents librarians bridge that gap through their knowledge of documents. This makes them better subject specialists and promoters of this often under-utilized collection.	Training Room 2
6:00 – 7:30	Regional Depository Meeting Meeting for regional depository coordinators to discuss issues related to their libraries. Note – The audio portion of this session will be available through GPO's eLearning platform.	Carl Hayden Room

Friday, May 2

8:30 – 9:00	Coffee with Council	Cafeteria
9:00 – 9:45	Council Session – Working Session <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Arlene Weible, Council Chair, Oregon State Library Council housekeeping activities and a discussion of potential recommendations to GPO.	Harding Hall

9:00 – 9:45	Getting to Government Information <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Elizabeth Psyck, Grand Valley State University Have you ever wondered how your patrons find government information? This session will review the results of a 2011 survey conducted at 11 different academic depository libraries and focus on the methods patrons reported using to find and access government information. Attendees will gain a better understanding of patron behavior and a better understanding of how much government information use is missed by traditional collection statistics.	Training Room 1
9:00 – 9:45	Manifest Destiny Illustrated: Army Artists in the Southwest in the 19th Century <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mark Anderson, University of Northern Colorado After the Mexican War, exploration parties under the jurisdiction of the U.S. Army Corps of Topographical Engineers were assigned to explore, survey and map the newly acquired territories. Their official reports describe the topography and environment, flora and fauna, water and mineral resources, and, most interestingly, the native tribes resident in the area. Photography was an impractical tool for recording images in the field, so exploration teams included artists. Their field sketches and watercolors were made into mass-reproducible lithographs which were included as illustrations in the commanding officers' published reports. Artists such as Bayard Mollhausen and Richard Kern helped introduce an American public, hungry for details, to the alien landscapes and exotic people in territories that became the states of New Mexico and Arizona. This presentation will focus on the works of selected Army artists and the political and social contexts of the expeditions they supported.	Training Room 2
9:00 – 9:45	Bringing Order to Chaos: Capturing the Federal Web for Permanent Public Access <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • David Walls, Library Services and Content Management, GPO • Dory Bower, Library Services and Content Management, GPO Brewster Kahle, founder of the Internet Archive, has been quoted as saying "the Web is a mess." As we all know, Federal agencies create, change, and remove Web content without notice. Federal agency Web masters also increasingly develop more and more complex Web sites using dynamic Web technology which makes archiving these sites a challenge. Members of LSCM's Web Archiving team will share how they are addressing the "messy" issues of the Federal Web and increasing the discoverability and access to Web content through Web harvesting and archiving. Note – The audio portion of this session will be available through GPO's eLearning platform.	Carl Hayden Room
9:45 – 10:30	Digital Public Library of America <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Emily Gore, Director of Content, Digital Public Library of America • Anthony D. Smith, Director, Projects and Systems, LSCM, GPO The Digital Public Library of America (DPLA) is a national effort that seeks	Harding Hall to build a comprehensive digital library of rich content from America's libraries, archives, and museums, making them freely available to the world. It strives to contain the full breadth of human expression, from the written word, to works of art and culture, to records of America's heritage, and to the efforts of e-science. DPLA Director of Content, Emily Gore, will provide a glimpse of the overarching DPLA service model and provide insight on some of the ways that it is directly benefiting the public. Anthony D. Smith, GPO Director of Projects and Systems, will share with the audience some of the early work that is taking place to bring government information directly to DPLA's large audience of public users.

Note – The audio portion of this session will be available through GPO's eLearning platform.

9:45 – 10:30	Use of Government Information Adds Objectivity and Authority <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Antoinette Satterfield, U.S. Naval Academy Writing a paper or preparing a presentation? Need resources to add authority and objectivity to the subject - especially if the topic is controversial? Let's look at some examples!	Training Room 1
9:45 – 10:30	U.S. History: Researching Number 13 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Marianne Ryan, Northwestern University • Catherine Johnson, ProQuest From the beginning, the number 13 has been significant in the history of our nation, which originated with 13 colonies. Researching the number 13 in government documents yields information about events including passage of the 13th Amendment and the launch of Apollo 13. In this 13th year of the 21st century, looking back a hundred years to 1913 allows discovery of a Congress that was considering issues that still concern Congress today, such as taxes, floods, and women's rights. Government documents provide a unique glimpse into the past that can help students and researchers better understand the present. This presentation will first highlight occurrences of the number 13 in American history, then compare and contrast noteworthy issues of 2013 with what was going on a century ago.	Training Room 2
9:45 - 10:30	Improving the Landfill: Dealing with Major Physical Constraints While Improving Access to a Regional's Depository's Collection (One Regional's Experience) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Tom Rohrig, Texas Tech University This presentation describes multi-year project of the Texas Tech Regional to handle strict physical constraints while improving access to their collection and keeping within Title 44 requirements and minimal staffing. Some techniques include de-duping, continuous retro cataloging, and inclusion of government information in all library instruction sessions including the 1 hour LIBR1100 Introduction to Library Research, etc. This program was developed with Susan Hidalgo and Pam Lampe at Texas Tech University.	Carl Hayden Room

10:30 – 11:00	Break	Cafeteria
11:00 - 12:30	Council Session – Wrap Up <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Arlene Weible, Council Chair, Oregon State Library A review of conference activities and any action items for Council. Note – The audio portion of this session will be available through GPO’s eLearning platform.	Harding Hall
11:00 – 12:30	The FDLP Technology Plan <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Anthony D. Smith, Director, Projects and Systems, LSCM, GPO GPO has started the process of evaluating the future needs of its various user groups, in an effort to develop a new information technology strategy and implementation plan. The goal is to deploy new technology-based services that will provide streamlined support for the FDLP community as well as enhanced services for the general public. Anthony D. Smith will provide an overview of the current work underway to develop a comprehensive technology plan. This session will also seek audience participation and suggestions for creating improved FDLP service functionality that will ultimately help improve meeting the needs of the FDLP community.	Training Room 1
11:00 – 11:45	The Secret of NIMH: Using Government Information to Promote Emotional Well-Being <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sonnet Ireland, University of New Orleans With budget cuts, it seems like mental health services are the first to go—in personal lives, as well as government programs. Learn about resources that focus on this aspect of your clientele; you’ll also learn how to connect your community with programs and information that will truly make a difference in their lives.	Training Room 2
11:00 - 11:45	U.S. Department of the Interior Library <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Jennifer Klang, U.S. Department of Interior Library An overview of some Department of the Interior bureaus and how to find and access their Web resources, with a focus on the National Park Service and the Fish and Wildlife Service. Note – This program will be recorded and available after the conference in the Webinar archive.	Carl Hayden Room
11:45 – 12:30	Off the Beaten Path: The Allure of the U.S. Consular Reports <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Rebecca Hyde, Saint Louis University Malt Liquors in Antigua. The Feast of Lanterns in Japan. Homes of the German Working People. Church and State in Mexico. Open a volume of the U.S. Consular Reports from the late 1800’s and you will find firsthand accounts on these topics and many more. Stationed throughout the world in sovereign nations, colonial territories and outposts of empire, consuls sought out trade opportunities for the United States and sent back detailed reports on industry, commerce, local government and life. This session will	Training Room 2 give a brief history of the U.S. Consular Services and reports with an emphasis on the 19th and early 20th centuries, as well as discuss strategies for assisting researchers in identifying and discovering these largely hidden and poorly indexed documents.

11:45 – 12:30

National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration - Making Your Life Better Since 1807

Carl Hayden Room

- Molly Harrison, National Ocean Service, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration
- Bruce Moravchik
- , National Ocean Service, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration

Climate change is the defining environmental issue of our time. NOAA plays a key role in understanding and predicting global change, and ensuring that critical information is delivered to the public. NOAA's education and communication community works cooperatively to present the agency's scientific work through interactive websites, data visualizations, and easy to use online search tools to get you the information and data you need...fast.

Note – This program will be recorded and available after the conference in the Webinar archive.

12:30

Depository Library Council Meeting and Federal Depository Library Conference adjourns

Tours - Advance sign up is required.

Space is limited. Sign up on Wednesday, April 30th in the Harding Hall Foyer. Tours last 30 minutes each.

12:45 – 1:15
 1:30 – 2:00

GPO History Exhibit Talk

- George Barnum, Historian, GPO
- Lincoln and His Printers: GPO In the Civil War.*

Meet in the GPO Visitor's Center at the GPO main entrance, 1st floor

1:00 – 1:30
 1:45 – 2:15

Library Services and Content Management

Tour of the staff areas, including Technical Services, Projects and Systems, and Outreach and Support.

Meet in the Harding Hall Foyer, 8th floor

1:30 – 2:00
 2:00 – 2:30

GPO Bindery

- Walter Wingo, Jr., Manager, Binding Division, GPO
- Tour GPO's Binding Division. Included in this behind the scenes look at book assembly is a marbling demonstration.*

Meet in the Harding Hall Foyer, 8th floor