January 2014: News to us

Active Learning Classroom

URI's new 54 seat active learning classroom is expected to open for Fall 2015 classes. It will be located in the Robert L. Carothers Library.

Feb. – Mar. 2014: Negotiations

- Meetings with URI Administration
- The target location? Non-negotiable.
- However – the Library negotiated from a position of strength.
- The GPO Depository Library Guidelines
- To get the job completed by the deadline set down by URI Administration, the Library used the following as bargaining points:

Time

How many hours will it take to clear area?

Based work schedule and hours on 2009 & 2010 serials weeding projects.

Staffing

How many people will it take to clear the area in this amount of time?

On the cataloging side – how many should be involved?

Cost

How much will it cost for staff AND the number of hours needed to get this project done.

6 Parts of the project

- Remove bound periodicals from Mezzanine
- Select GovPubs titles to be moved
- Catalog GovPubs titles to be moved.
- Move them to Mezzanine
- Compact the remaining collection on 1st floor
- Move & store specialized collections during construction - temporary

Why Mezzanine Madness?

Mar. & Apr. 2014: Internal Negotiations

Who will be helping?

- Access Services
- Acquisitions
- Administration (Library)
- Cataloging
- Government Publications
- Housekeeping
- Recycling Company (and URI Recycling)

Mar. – June 2014: What is leaving the Mezz?

The Monday before Thanksgiving...

The Lessons Learned Portion

- Don't ignore your voice: Be proactive
- Collaboration is always essential
- Be flexible – have that Plan B handy
- How to motivate students
- Keep track of time & staff – no matter how big or small the project is. You might need that information some day.
- Don't forget to submit a contingency plan to GPO when you are planning a move.

Measuring

Cataloging...it is still going on...

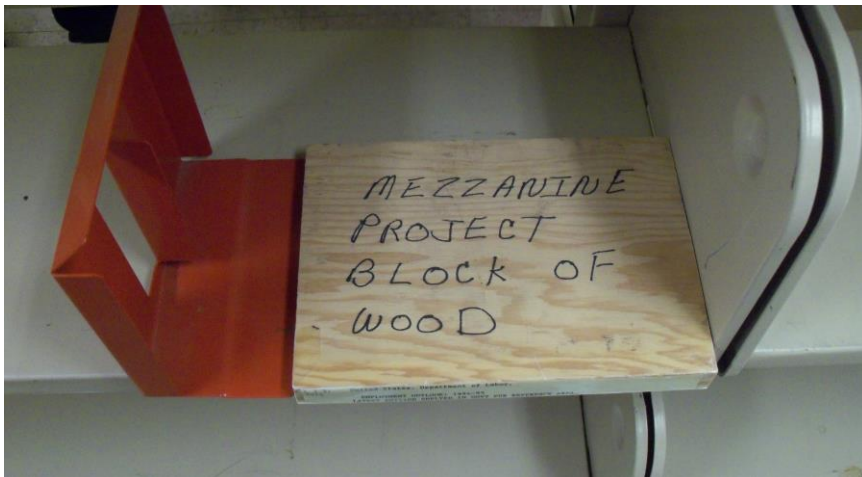

Always say Thank You
