

Could You Already Be a FIPNet Partner?

Bringing National Recognition to Local Projects

Kirstin Krumsee, State Library of Ohio
Sandra McAninch, University of Kentucky
Kate Tallman, University of Colorado – Boulder
David Walls, U.S. Government Publishing Office
Cynthia Etkin, U.S. Government Publishing Office

October 18, 2016

Cynthia Etkin

Sr. Program Planning Specialist
Superintendent of Documents' Office
U.S. Government Publishing Office
cetkin@gpo.gov

LSCM Programmatic Preservation

Strategic initiatives, programs, and processes designed to maintain useful access to information assets, serving the information needs of both present and future generations

- Organizational Infrastructure
- Policy Framework and Documentation
- FIPNet

Policy Framework & Documentation

Superintendent of Documents Public Policy Statements

National Plan for Access to U.S. Government Information

A Framework for a User-centered To Permanent Public Access

U.S. Government Publishing Office
February 2016

GPO's System of Online Access Collection Development Plan

Office of the Superintendent of Documents
U.S. Government Publishing Office
September 30, 2016

U.S. GOVERNMENT PUBLISHING OFFICE
Keeping America Informed | OFFICIAL | DIGITAL | SECURE

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT BETWEEN
[INSERT INSTITUTION/LIBRARY]
AND THE
U.S. GOVERNMENT PUBLISHING OFFICE

PURPOSE
This memorandum outlines [Library name] responsibilities as a preservation steward of tangible content within scope of the Superintendent of Documents Public Information Programs: Federal Depository Library Program (FDLP), Cataloging & Indexing Program (C&I), and GPO's System of Online Access. It expresses the U.S. Government Publishing Office's (GPO) and the Federal Depository Library Program's long-term commitments to permanent public access through preservation and in Keeping America Informed.

BACKGROUND
Responsibility for retention of depository materials by regional depository libraries is found in 44 United States Code §1912, which states:
[regional depository libraries] will, in addition to fulfilling the requirements for depository libraries, retain at least one copy of all Government publications either in printed or microfacsimile form (except those authorized to be discarded by the Superintendent of Documents) ...
This provision of §1912 has been in place since the Depository Library Act of 1962, Pub. L. 87-579, which established regional depository libraries. However, the Joint Committee on Printing (JCP) in a letter to GPO Director Davita Vance-Cooks, dated August 5, 2015, authorized withdrawal of tangible depository materials under certain circumstances.
With this new authority, the Superintendent of Documents issued a new policy¹ which permits regional depository libraries to withdraw Government publications from their collection if:

¹ Superintendent of Documents Public Policy Statement: Government Publications Authorized for Discard by Regional Depository Libraries (effective May 31, 2016) may be found at <https://www.gpo.gov/foia>.

SOD-PPS #
	2016-4 (76 KB)
	2016-3 (72 KB)
	2016-2 (122 KB)
	2016-1 (149 KB)

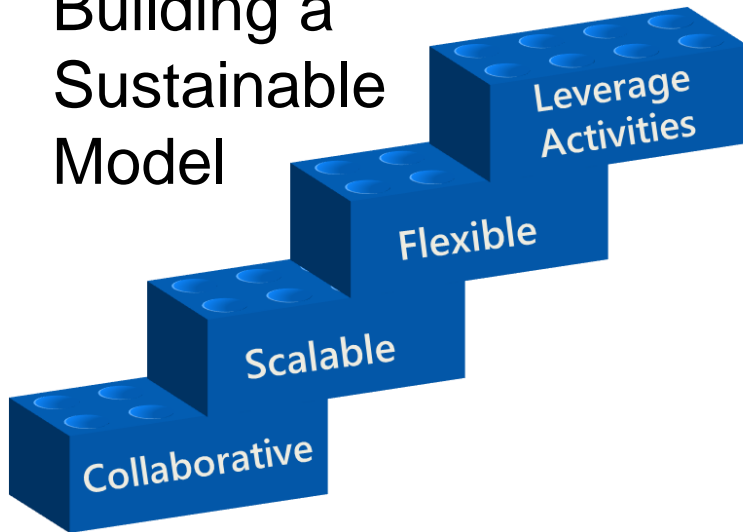

What is FIPNet?

Federal Information Preservation Network

GPO's strategic initiative to expand FDLP collections and Cataloging & Indexing content for the National Bibliographic Records Inventory through a collaborative network of information professionals working in various partner roles to ensure that future generations have access to the National Collection of U.S. Government information.

FIPNet

Building a Sustainable Model

FIPNet Roles

- Digital imaging
- Content hosting
- Cataloging & metadata
- Web harvesting
- Tangible preservation steward
- Collection care and conservation

David Walls

Preservation Librarian
FIPNet Coordinator
U.S. Government Publishing Office
dwalls@gpo.gov

Kirstin Krumsee

Library Consultant, Government Information
Regional Depository Coordinator
State Library of Ohio
kkrumsee@library.ohio.gov
Member, Depository Library Council

Sandra McAninch

Head of Federal Depository Unit
Regional Depository Coordinator
William T. Young Library
University of Kentucky
mcaninch@uky.edu

Kate Tallman

Assistant Professor
Government Information Librarian
Regional Depository Coordinator
University Libraries
University of Colorado-Boulder
Kathryn.w.tallman@colorado.edu

Questions?

Kirstin Krumsee

Sandra McAninch

Kate Tallman

David Walls

Cindy Etkin