GPO History

Q: Why do GPO staff get excited every March 4th to celebrate an event that took place in 1861?

Oh yeah.
This guy also got inaugurated on that day.

“Publick Printing” & GPO’s Origins

Early printing was performed on contract by newspapers and other private printers.

- Complaints of high costs, ineffective service, and repeated scandals of contract printing

Congress established the Government Printing Office.

- GPO almost immediately provided a reduction in costs, vastly improved service, and eliminated scandal.

GPO History – Changes in Printing

- Early 20th century - GPO acknowledged as the world's largest printing organization, aka the “big shop”
- GPO's past is the story of moving through successive changes in printing technology.
 - Well into the 1960s, GPO used machine typesetting supported by improving press technology.
 - 1967 saw the installation of the Linotron, a computerized typesetting system developed specifically for GPO's unique needs.

GPO History – Digital Era (1960s to today)

- GPO workforce: 8,000 (1970s), about 1,700 (today)
- GPO now produces:
 - Online databases of congressional and agency documents
 - eBooks
 - Passports and smart identification cards with electronic chips carrying biometric data
 - Print products on recycled substrates using vegetable oil-based inks
 - Public presence not only on the web but on social media
- GPO name change to Government Publishing Office (2014)

FDLP Mission

Established by Congress to ensure that the American public has access to its Government's information (Title 44, United States Code, Chapter 19)

The FDLP is based upon these three principles:

- Federal Government information products within scope of the FDLP shall be made available to Federal depository libraries.
- Federal depository libraries shall be located in each State and U.S. Congressional District to make Government information products more widely available.
- Federal Government information in all media shall be available for the free use by the general public.

FDLP History

- Act of 1813: Authorized distribution of one copy of House and Senate Journals to select university and state libraries and historical institutions
 - American Antiquarian Society earliest known depository (1814)
- Depository distribution management moved around
 - Secretary of State (Act of 1813)
 - Department of Interior (Printing Act of 1852)
 - GPO (Printing Act of 1895)
- Depository libraries designated by
 - Secretary of the Interior (1857-1895)
 - Representatives authorized to designate a depository from own district (1858), and two (Depository Library Act of 1962)
 - Authorized each Senator to assign one depository in own state (1859), and two (1962)

FDLP History

- Different library types added to program
 - Libraries in executive departments (1895)
 - Military academies (1895)
 - Land grant colleges (1907)

- Catalog of U.S. Government Publications, an online public access catalog, launched (2006)
- Multi-year project to digitize and convert Historic Shelflist cards dating from the 1870s to 1992 for inclusion in the Catalog of U.S. Government Publications began (2012)
- LSCM cataloging in new bibliographic standard: Resource Description and Access (RDA) (2013)

GPO History – Online Milestones

- "GPO Access Law"
 - Government Printing Office Electronic Information Access Enhancement Act of 1993 enacted (Public Law 103-40)
 - GPO Access service launched; available by subscription, free to depositories (1994)
 - GPO Access free to all users (1995)
- GPO's Federal Digital System (FDsys)
 - FDsys launched (2009)
 - GPO Access retired (2012)
 - FDsys has over 50 collections from all three branches of the Federal government
- govinfo.gov beta launch (2016)

Digital Depository Libraries

- Currently, online publications are a major component of the collections of FDLP libraries.
- There are three main types of FDLP libraries selecting and using online FDLP resources.

Digital Depository Libraries

Three types of FDLP libraries selecting online resources

1. Libraries with historical tangible selections/collections that supplement their collections with digital selections/resources
2. Libraries with more current collections that rely heavily on digital resources but are also select a number key tangible publications
3. Libraries who focus their entire collections on digital resources – the digital depository library that receives no tangible publications from GPO

Digital Depository Libraries

The digital depository can be an excellent model for the FDLP library with limited budgets, space, and staff to process, house, and maintain tangible depository materials.

GPO always recommends cataloging online resources and/or providing subject guides of other finding aids to help patrons be aware of the online resources.

Public Access Requirements

- Congress established the FDLP to ensure that the public has access to Federal Government information of public interest or educational value.
- The Program provides Federal Government information products at no cost to designated depository libraries.
- Depository libraries, in turn, provide local, no-fee public access in an impartial environment with professional assistance to information produced by the Federal Government.

Public Access Requirements

Not just physical access to your facility and depository resources - it involves:

- Bibliographic identification of depository resources
- Physical access to depository resources not ONLY by primary users, but by the general public
- Sufficient computer capabilities to use online Federal depository library materials
- A commitment to staff training to ensure the provision of reference services in the use of U.S. Government information

Public Access Requirements

- Federal depository resources must be available free to all regardless of library affiliation, disability, age, residency, or other patron status.
- Impediments include physical barriers to access or any activities, policies, signage, website language, etc. that discourage or dissuade library patrons from using the library's depository resources.

Non Requirements

Libraries are NOT required to provide:

- Circulation privileges to non-primary users, although they may choose to do so
- Remote access to FDLP databases
- Free printing or photocopying
- Access to depository resources during all hours that the building is open
- Anonymous patron access to depository resources
- U.S. Government services or resources not in the FDLP, such as fee-based resources
- Access to anyone who poses a threat to library persons or collection

Security and Building Access

To protect library staff, facilities, and collections, depository libraries may :

- Require patrons to sign a guest register for building access
- Require identification for building access
- Conduct a reference interview to screen visitors to ensure there is a need for depository material
- Escort users to the depository collection
- Restrict library users to use only the depository collection
- Limit access to collections to primary patrons during late night hours when the library is short-staffed

Facilities with Limited Access

Depository libraries with access restrictions, such as military facilities or Federal buildings, must still provide free, public access to the extent feasible.

For facilities with limited access, appropriate measures include requiring visitors to:

- Make arrangements in advance
- Show identification
- Have an escort in order to access depository resources

If this poses too many challenges for the library user, assist the patron by phone, email, or other form of communication.

Security and Computer Access

Depository libraries may:

- Require patrons to present identification
- Require the signing of a computer use register, signup sheet, or log
- Use an authenticated log-in to access computers or public networks
- Use special or generic passwords or visitor cards
- Set time limits for use
- Require patrons to use sign-up sheets
- Mediate access to electronic formats and online depository information resources (if filtering cannot be disabled or age restrictions cannot be circumvented)
- Reserve specific computers for depository patrons

Computer Resources

Depository libraries may:

- Mediate services if state laws, network security measures, or other factors require filtering of websites

Libraries should:

- Communicate available workarounds to the filters (Library-wide signage and policies must also communicate these workarounds.)
- Have the ability to install on library computers DVD/CDs or circulate to patrons
- Allow printing from computers or mediate access

Access to Microfiche

- Microfiche readers must be available if the library has depository microfiche in the collection.
- Additional capabilities for microfiche readers, such as printing, scanning, and saving or sending digital files generated from microfiche resources is also encouraged.

Benefits of being a Federal Depository Library

Perhaps most important and valuable - the wealth of experience among the staff of the FDLP libraries and GPO's experienced staff, which form an incredible level of Federal Government information expertise

Top Ten Benefits Afforded To All FDLP Libraries

1. Free Federal information products in a variety of formats to supplement existing library material and to provide access to unique material
2. Free cataloging records from the national authority on U.S. Federal publications
3. Free, permanent public access to online content from GPO partners – often fee-based or restricted
4. Educational opportunities – training the next generation of Government information specialists
5. Collection development opportunities – important in an era of declining budgets

Top Ten Benefits Afforded To All FDLP Libraries

6. Consulting and networking opportunities from GPO and with fellow Government information experts
7. Free FDLP promotional material
8. Opportunity to participate in pilot projects with GPO to test new processes and technologies
9. Ensuring that dedicated Government information professionals remain on staff - critical in this time of hybrid collections where it is necessary to build and maintain collections of local interest and navigate the broad range of information resources
10. Enhancement of the status/prestige of an institution designated as an FDLP member

Depository Library Council (DLC)

- Established in 1972 to advise the GPO Director and the Superintendent of Documents on matters relating to the FDLP
- Its antecedents go back to 1963 when seven librarians were asked by the Public Printer to serve on an advisory committee on depository libraries.
- Original advisory committee formed at the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration during its consideration of revised legislation on depository libraries

Depository Library Council (DLC)

- DLC consists of 15 members appointed by the GPO Director.
- Members serve 3 year terms, with 5 members retiring each year and 5 new members entering. Members may be reappointed for a second term.
- All appointments to DLC are made by the GPO Director after consideration of recommendations from DLC, library associations, and others as deemed appropriate by the GPO Director.
- Members represent a cross section of the various types of libraries in the FDLP.
- At least half of the DLC's members work in depository libraries and have experience providing services for Government information.

Using askGPO - tips

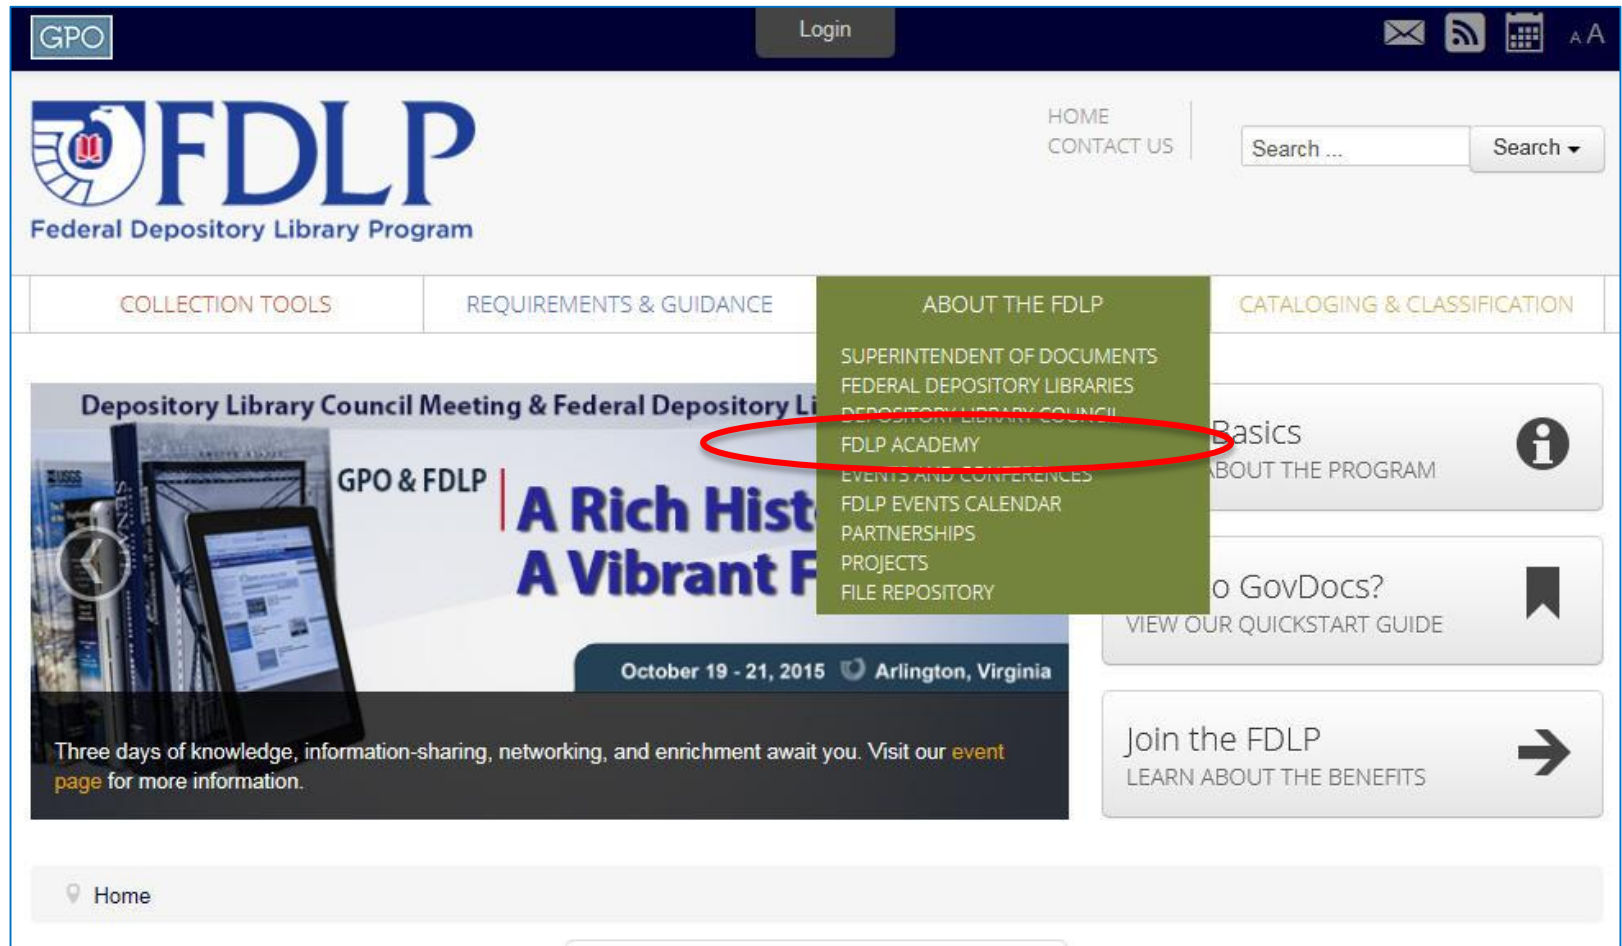

- askGPO is agency-wide, not just for LSCM
 - The categories of greatest interest to you are:
 - Federal Depository Libraries
 - FDsys
- The first time you use askGPO, an account is automatically created with the e-mail you used to submit the question.
 - Your askGPO login is separate from your internal login (for www.fdlp.gov)
 - Password confusion? See: <http://www.fdlp.gov/requirements-guidance/instructions/377-passwords-used-in-depository-libraries>
 - You can review all your past askGPO questions.

Using askGPO – more tips

- Why so many categories? The idea is to help get your question to the right person at the beginning.
 - Please read the categories closely!
- If no category is appropriate, choose “Other Depository Library Issue” or “Ask a Librarian”

Welcome to the FDLP Academy

The goal of the FDLP Academy is to:

- Inform and educate the Federal depository library community about Federal Government information resources;
- Assist Federal depository libraries in better serving their communities; and
- Advance Government information literacy.

Through this collaboration between the U.S. Government Publishing Office (GPO), Federal depository libraries, and other Federal agencies, FDLP library partners and the public will be better engaged and empowered with Federal Government information resources.

Collection Development – Big Picture

- The FDLP is comprised of U.S. Government publications having public interest or educational value.
- Public officials designate depository libraries in order to provide local, no-fee, public access to Federal Government information with impartial and expert librarian assistance. All Federal depository libraries share in this responsibility. Depository libraries serve not only primary patrons but also the general public.

Kathy Bayer, GPO

Collection Development – Meeting Library Patron Federal Information Needs

- Identifying the Federal Government information needs of current and potential patrons and selecting or providing access to materials that meet their needs
- Regular collection development helps ensure users needs are continually being met.
- Collection development policies are recommended.

Depository Library Collections

Legal Requirements and Program Regulations of the Federal Depository Library Program #8: Depository libraries must provide access to FDLP content.

FDLP content consists of:

- Tangible resources (print, fiche, CD-ROMs, etc.)
- Online only publications
- GPO's MetaLib resources via the CGP
- Official content partnership resources
- Agency subscription databases

GPO's MetaLib via catalog.gpo.gov

Details

Last Updated: January 10 2014

Published: October 15 2012

The Homeland Security Digital Library (HSDL) is a database containing non-classified Presidential directives, policy, and national strategy documents as well as specialized resources related to homeland security.

Additional information about this service is contained in a presentation, " Terrorism and Security: What Information is Out There? (4.53 MB)" by Greta Marlatt at the Fall 2007 Federal Depository Library Conference.

Library Access Methods

In partnership with the Federal Depository Library Program, Federal depository libraries have no-fee access to HSDL. Depository libraries must register for access to this service.

Two types of access are available. Access is based on library type:

Item Number System

- The system is how GPO groups materials together that are published by a Government agency or sub-agency (by title, by category such as “General Publications”, etc.)
- In most cases, there are different item numbers for each format so you can select by format.
 - (P), (MF), (CD), (DVD), (EL), (E), multiple formats or unknown
- Your depository’s item number selection profile is the list of item numbers your library has selected.

Item Number Selection Requirements

- Selectives may select only one tangible format of a title. Regional depositories are required to select at least one tangible format for all items but may select titles in both formats.
- Some item numbers are available only to regionals and/or law libraries.

Otherwise, selectives may select any number of item numbers, or not select any, as they choose.

- Until recently, all libraries were required to select 0556-C and 1004-E. This regulation has been rescinded.

Documents Data Miner

Non-GPO resource
but data is from GPO
sources

Some of the cool stuff
you can do:

- Tailor shipping lists
- Find selections by format
- Download FDLP data using Tools

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Documents Data Miner 2 website. At the top, there is a navigation menu with links for HOME, INTRODUCTION, TOOLS, DDM, FDLP, FEEDBACK, and TUTORIAL. Below the navigation, a welcome message reads: "WELCOME TO DOCUMENTS DATA MINER 2, A Library Management System for United States Government Documents". It also states: "Developed and maintained by Wichita State University Libraries using data published by the Government Printing Office." The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column contains a vertical menu with links: LOGOFF, CATALOG, DEPOSITORY SELECTION & DIRECTORY, INACTIVE LOC, LIST OF CLASSES, MARC LOCATOR, SHELF LISTS, SHIPPING LISTS, SUPERSEDED LIST, and URL LOCATOR. The right column contains descriptions for several features: TEXT ONLY, LIST OF CLASSES (with a search description), GPO INACTIVE / DISCONTINUED (with a search description), GPO INACTIVE LOC records (with a search description), SUPERSEDED LIST (with a search description), DEPOSITORY SELECTION & DIRECTORY (with a search description), SHIPPING LISTS (with a search description), SHELF LISTS (with a search description), MARC LOCATOR (with a search description), URL LOCATOR (with a search description), CATALOG (with a search description), Tools (with a search description), and DDM2 Survey (with a search description). There are also logos for WSU and GPO on the left side of the page.

Reviewing your Library's Item Number Selection Profile

- Reviewing what your library currently has on your item number selection profile and also what you potentially could select among unselected item numbers
- If need to reduce tangible receipts, focus on tangible selections
- Documents Data Miner is a very useful tool
- Consider your collection development policy/plans

Access U.S. Government information on the go and on the shelf.

Selecting Online Only (EL) Item Numbers?

Some reasons to consider “selecting” item numbers associated with (EL) in your library’s item number selection profile:

- “Locate in a Library” feature in the CGP
- Use of various collection tools is easier
- Sometimes agencies decide to switch formats.
- Your library acquires catalog records from a vendor and has profiled to acquire records for all formats based on the FDLP item number profile (a requirement for FDLP Cataloging Record Distribution Program participants).
- GPO may develop new services that use item numbers.

Keeping or Selecting Tangibles?

Potential benefits of some tangible formats in the collection:

- Some publications are preferred by users in paper format.
- Paper may offer more security for preservation and access.
- A core collection, with historical or current materials in tangible formats, may benefit the needs of many users.
- Some content is not online.
- Online access features may not be user-friendly.
- Some agency web sites only provide access to the current issue of online resources.

Becoming a Digital Depository

When a decision is made that online formats best serve the Federal Government information needs of your community, to transition:

- Continue to provide free, public access and services to depository resources at your library
- Amend your library’s item selections so that they include only item numbers associated with (EL) or none
- Weed (stay tuned for info about supersession, official substitution, and the “5-year rule”)

Suggested FDLP.gov Guidance Articles

At FDLP.gov > Requirements and Guidance > Guidance, see these articles relating to collection development:

- “All or Mostly Online Federal Depository Libraries”
- “Amending Your Library’s Selection Profile”
- “Depository Collection and Development”
- “Weeding a Depository Collection”, related collection management article, if transitioning collection development to focus more on digital content

Cataloging Record Distribution Program

Cataloging Record Distribution Program (CRDP)

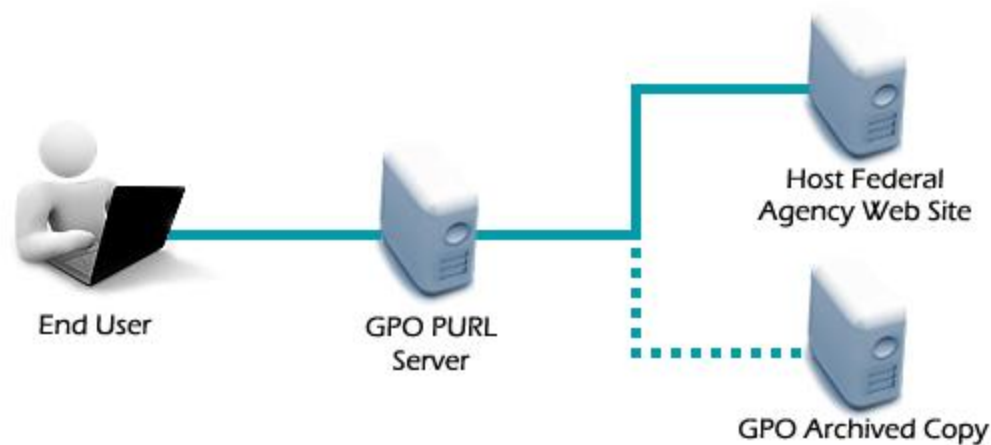

- Program to distribute cataloging records to depository libraries free of charge on a monthly basis
- Limited number of places, waiting list, annual confirmation of participation

Record Customization:

- Changed or updated full GPO cataloging records
- Historic Shelflist cataloging records (brief records)
- Libraries may choose how the record sets are organized. For example, they can be separated by format (e.g. serials only, microfiche only, EL only, etc.), or they may be one file.
- Creation of item record holding fields (if desired)
- Creation of holding codes based on format (if desired)
- Placement of OCLC and SuDocs numbers and designated MARC fields according to local practice
- Record sets in MARC 8 or UTF-8
- Sending records to OCLC for the purpose of setting holdings.

How to Locate a Government Publication

Government publications in this collection are arranged by the Superintendent of Documents classification number. Publications are grouped together by classification number. To ensure that you find all of the materials available on a particular subject, be sure to check the databases or indexes recommended by your librarian.

The example below shows how the Superintendent of Documents classification number PREX 3.15:2014-15 is constructed for the publication The World Factbook:

PREX	3.	15:	2014-15
Executive Office of the President (issuing agency)	Central Intelligence Agency (subordinate bureau within the issuing agency)	Number designating the title	Year of publication or coverage

Here are the prefixes from the Superintendent of Documents classification numbers for some other agencies that you may find of interest:

A	Agriculture Department
C 3	Census Bureau (Commerce Department)
D	Defense Department
E	Energy Department
ED	Education Department
EP	Environmental Protection Agency
GA	Government Accountability Office
GP	Government Publishing Office
HE 20.7000:	Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
HS	Homeland Security Department
I	Interior Department
I 19	U.S. Geological Survey (Interior Department)
J	Justice Department
JU	Judiciary
L	Labor Department
LC	Library of Congress
NAS	National Aeronautics and Space Administration
S	State Department
SSA	Social Security Administration
SI	Smithsonian Institution
T 22	Internal Revenue Service (Treasury Department)
X, Y	Congress
Y 4	Congressional Committees

Your librarian will be happy to provide you with the prefixes for any U.S. Government agency or other information that can help you find the materials you need.

* Government publications are available online, and some are issued also in other formats listed in your library's catalog.

Shipping Lists

Details
 Last Updated: February 06 2014
 Published: October 19 2012

Shipping lists are a list of publications that are mailed to libraries in their depository distribution box. In addition to the paper copies that arrive in depository shipment boxes, electronic versions of these publications are also available.

Select the file format, year, and then type to view a list of shipping lists. USGS shipping lists are included.

Claims

CLAIMS

Claims for depository materials from GPO-issued shipping lists must be made within 60 days of the date of the shipping list. Only claim documents in your selection profile that you did not receive.

- Microfiche claims must be made through the appropriate microfiche contractor.
- USGS map claims must be sent to USGS.
- Check the Claims Copies Exhausted list for a list items that can no longer be claimed against surplus stock.

Claims can be submitted from one shipping list at a time. Only five items can be claimed in one submission. If all of the documents on a shipping list need to be claimed, check the "Claim Entire Shipping List" box. Read more...

Claims Cut-Off Date

Claims may not be made for shipping lists dated on/before:

Piece Level Accounting

What is piece level accounting?

Identifying every tangible depository publication in your collection down to the 'item' or 'piece' level

Can be achieved the following ways:

- 1) Full cataloging (down to the item/piece level)
- 2) Shelflist

What is a shelflist?

- Itemized list of depository publications
- Preferably in electronic format (e.g. a spreadsheet).
- Preferably publicly accessible

Ashley Dahlen, GPO

Piece Level Accounting

Good holdings statement	Bad holdings statement
A 1.1:1909 – 2015	A 1.1:1909 – present
A 1.1:1909-1935, 1940-2011	A 1.1:1909-2011, some years missing
A 1.2:AC 1; AC 1/2002; C 32	A 1.2:AC 1 - C 32

Cataloging

Cataloging (full or partial level) is required for tangible material received after January 2012.

Level of cataloging is a local decision

- Full cataloging to the item or piece level
- Partial or brief cataloging (with additional piece level shelflist)

Where you catalog is up to you

- Preferably online or electronic
- Preferably accessible to the public

Bibliographic Control

- GPO requires 100% piece level accounting of the Federal depository collection you house (tangible).
- GPO requires cataloging (to varying degrees) for material received after January of 2012.

The goal of cataloging is to make the collection more visible and to increase its usage.

GPO is flexible when it comes to how you make that happen, given your library's circumstances.

Ways You Can Catalog

Different ways to catalog based on how your library's workflow is set up:

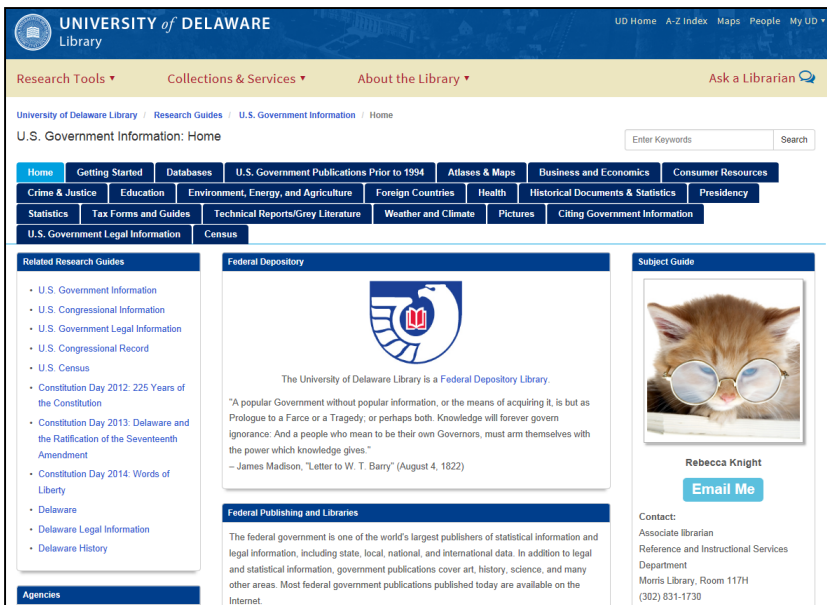

- Copy catalog
- Purchase vendor records for bulk upload
- Original cataloging
- Mix

Sources of records:

- Catalog of U.S. Government Publications (CGP) free
 - Email up to 20 per email
 - Z39.50 for up to 10,000 records
- Documents Data Miner 2 (DDM2) – non GPO tool free
- Cataloging Record Distribution Program free
- 3rd Party Bibliographic Record Vendor (e.g. OCLC, MARCIVE, Inc.)

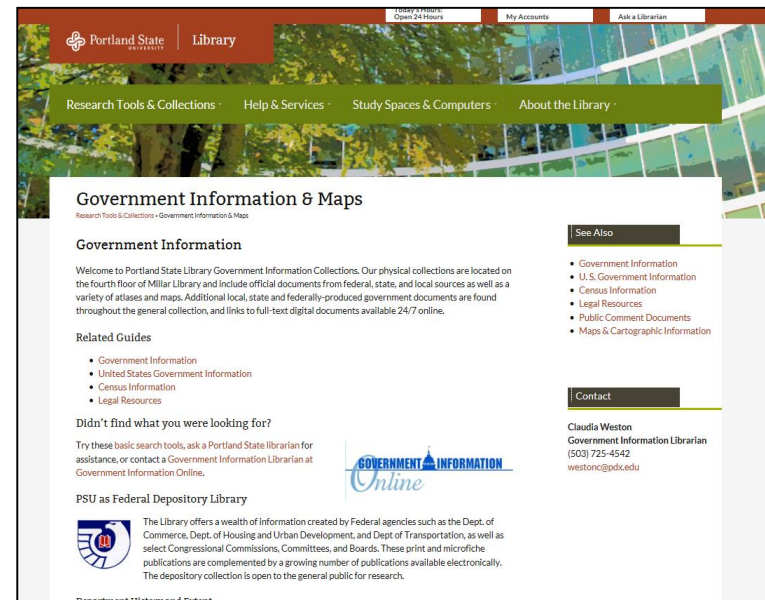

Online Resources

- Cataloging is not required, but recommended
- Alternate access points include including online resources in subject guides, LibGuides, etc...

Resource Description and Access (RDA) Cataloging

- GPO catalogs U.S. Government publications in all formats in high quality original cataloging done to national standards.
- GPO began cataloging in RDA on April 1, 2013.
- Impact:
 - Most abbreviations have been eliminated.
 - The general material designation (GMD) was replaced by three new MARC fields: content type (336), media type (337), and carrier type (338).
 - Authorities changed (names, corporate bodies, etc.).
- Learn about how GPO catalogs on fdlp.gov > Cataloging & Classification, or in webinar archive

Multiple Formats

If catalogers are only cataloging what comes in your depository box, then your library is not developing an online depository collection.

Regional Depository Libraries

- Receive at least one tangible format of all publications made available to depositories and they are required to retain those items in perpetuity (with some exceptions) – AKA “comprehensive collection”
- Serve as liaisons between the selective libraries in the state (or region) and LSCM
- Provide ILL, provide reference services, manage the publication withdrawal and substitution process
- Provide consultation, coordinate planning, and offer other services to selective depositories in their regions
- Designated by U.S. Senators from their state as regional depositories
 - Limit of two regionals per state - Most states have only one and a few states are served by regional depositories in neighboring states

Regional Structure

Selectives are served by regional depositories in a variety of models:

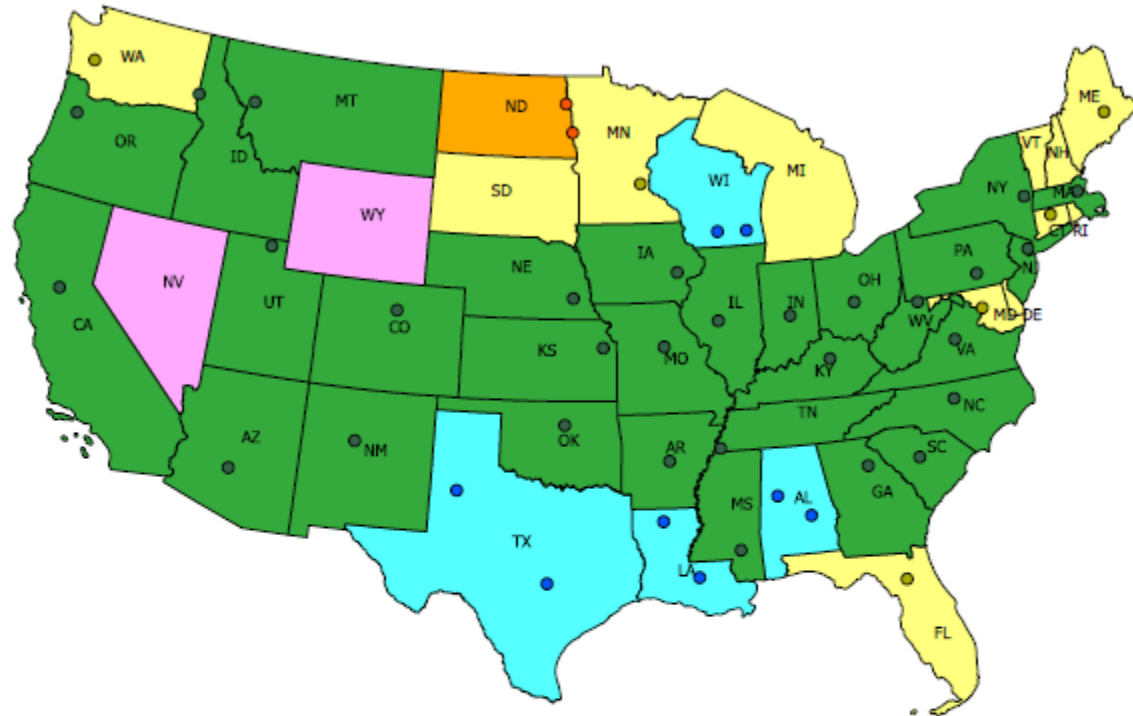

- One regional in state
- Two regionals in state – shared/independent
- Multi-state regional
- No regional

Regional Depository Libraries

Legend

- One Regional
- Two Regionals
- Multi State Regional
- Shared Regional
- No Regional

Alaska

Hawaii

Guam and Mariana Islands

Federated States of Micronesia

American Samoa

Puerto Rico and
U.S. Virgin Islands

Selective Depository Libraries

Customize their depository collection

This is achieved by:

- Selecting suitable materials for their users
- Retaining materials for at least 5 years
- Substituting tangible material with online equivalents (if desired)
- Retaining materials beyond the required 5 years as appropriate

Selective Depository Libraries

Designated in one of three ways

- By U.S. House Representatives in their Congressional District
 - Limit of 2 per Congressional District, although at any given time there may be more than two in some districts because of redistricting
- By U.S. Senator in their state
 - Limit of two per Senator's class
- By-law libraries
 - Designated 'by-law' - Unlimited number of by-law libraries are allowed per special provisions in Title 44. They include: state libraries, land-grant institutions, Federal agencies, law libraries accredited by the American Bar Association, service academies, etc.

State Plans

Optional plan of how a state or region engages in collaborative efforts, e.g.:

- Collection development
- Training
- Housing
- Public and technical services
- Marketing
- Shared reference services
- Visits
- Transfer of material
- Disposal

Especially good in outlining the development of a comprehensive Government documents collection

Weeding your Collection / Needs & Offers

3 weeding mechanisms:

- 1) Supersession
- 2) Substitution
- 3) 5-Year rule

This slide is visually boring!

Ashley Dahlen, GPO

Supersession

- Superseded material may be withdrawn at any time.
- Does not need to be offered to the regional library (unless they request it)
- Must meet the following criteria:
 - Dated material - discard when expired
 - Revised by a later edition/issue
 - A reprint and the depository received the original edition
 - Replaced by a cumulative edition
 - Replaced by a corrected copy
- 2002 Superseded List

Substitution Mechanisms

- Material in one format may be substituted with the same content in another format.
- The regional must approve of the swap.
- The regional library should issue detailed instructions to its selectives on the prescribed substitution procedures.
- Two types of substitution:
 - Tangible
 - Online

Tip – If you find that you do a lot of substitution, investigate whether or not you should deselect any item numbers to prevent the future receipt of those titles and formats.

Substitution

Tangible with a Tangible Substitution (Tangible depository holdings replaced by tangible products):

- Regional depositories should keep the interests of the state or region they serve in mind.
- Regionals must approve of any substitution.
- Substituted material must have proper reading equipment available, be properly referenced, and easily accessible to all users.
- Any material retained in lieu of the depository copy will then be treated as depository materials for the period of time that the library would have retained the original publications, and they will be subject to the same requirements that govern the care, treatment, and public access requirements during that time period.

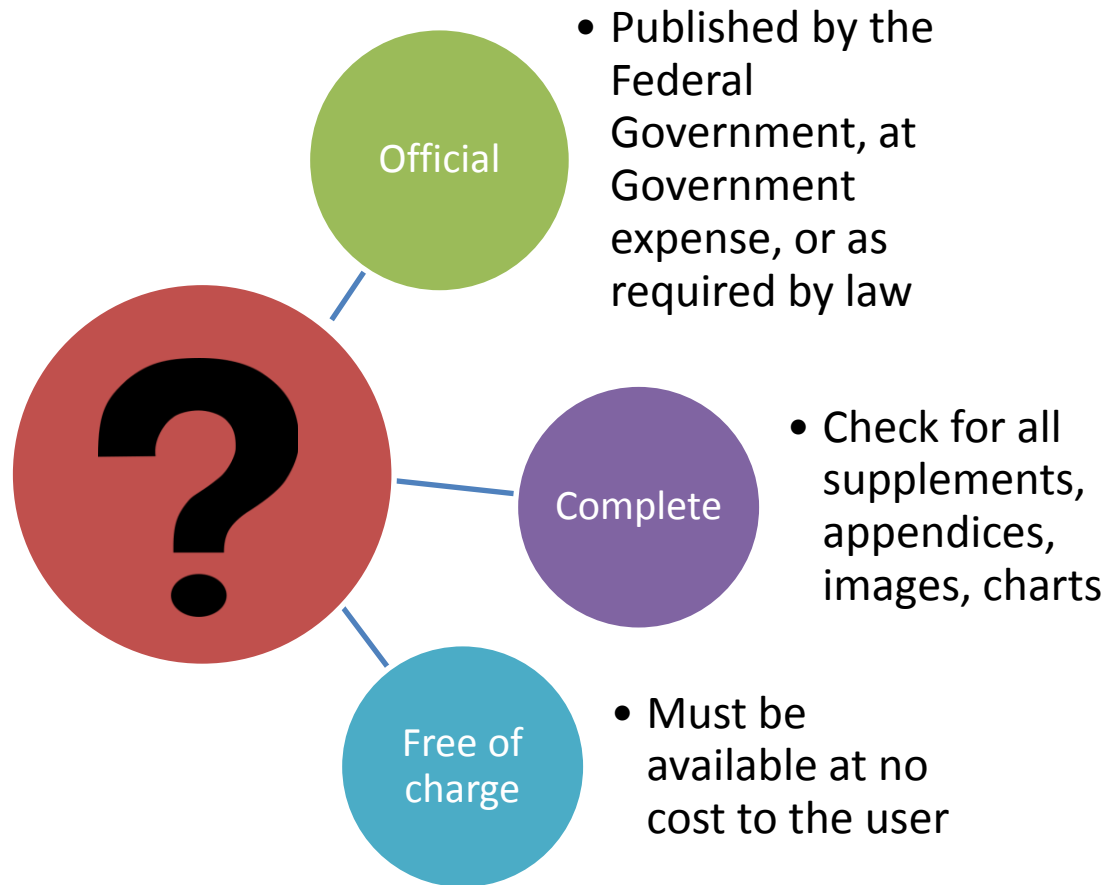

Substitution

Tangible with a Online Substitution (Tangible depository holdings replaced by an online equivalent):

- Regional depositories are generally not eligible for this option, although GPO is beginning to implement a regional discard policy for a limited number of titles.
- The publication must have been held for at least one year.
- The regional depository must approve of the swap.
- The online version must be:
 - Official
 - Complete
 - Free of charge to the user

Determining Eligibility

5-Year Rule

- Selectives libraries have the option of weeding material after having held the material for 5 years.
- The regional must approve of the withdrawal.

Weeding Cheat Sheet

(You're welcome)

Number of Years After Receipt →	1 Year	2 Years	3 Years	4 Years	5 Years and Beyond
Superseded List to identify publications that have been superseded by being updated, dated, cumulated, etc.; does not require regional permission	You can use the Superseded List at any time in the life cycle of the document.
Substitution Guidelines to swap out a tangible publication with an online equivalent, with regional permission	N/A	Between 1 and 5 years, use the Substitution Guidelines			Can be used, but the 5 Year Rule also applies
5 Year Rule- Selectives may request permission to discard from their regional library.	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A	Yes

Withdrawal Processes

Regionals have 4 mechanisms for authorizing withdrawals:

- 1) Require selective libraries to compile lists of publications they wish to withdraw from their collection (specific categories or formats may be exempted from the listing requirement).
- 2) Conduct an in-person review of the publications to be discarded.
- 3) Require selective libraries to check discards against the regional's or a union "needs" list.
- 4) Use a Do NOT need list.

Note – regionals can reject a withdrawal request if they need the material to stay at a selective

Needs & Offers Lists

- List typically contains Title, SuDocs, Date, Range (if applicable), and possibly item number.
- Check with your regional to see if any formats have been exempted in your region.
- Regional has first dibs. Selectives in your state or region have second dibs.
- National Needs & Offers list may be used after that (optional).
- Complicating factors:
 - Timeliness of reviewing lists
 - How the list is created (OPAC report versus Excel spreadsheet...)
 - Multiple regionals in your state?
 - ASERL tool in use?
 - Had a disaster in your region?
 - Lack of SuDocs numbers?

Other Approval Options

In-Person Review (AKA 'eyeballing')

- The regional library may conduct an in-person review of the publications to be discarded. Works well if the regional library is confident that the material being withdrawn is located elsewhere in the state or region.

Union 'Needs' List

- Selectives search a compiled 'needs list' of material that is known to be needed for the state or region.
- Saves libraries from having to list material that is already known to be needed.

Do NOT Need List

- Regional libraries can convert electronic disposal lists that they have already reviewed and compile them into a list of "do NOT need."
- Prevents the regional from searching their collection for the same publication twice.
- Works well in a region where the libraries have identified what their comprehensive collection requires (One copy? Multiple backup copies? Copies in various locations in the state?)

Exceptions

- No regional: Selectives not served by a regional may not withdraw material, except that which is superseded.
- Federal agencies do not have to retain material for 5 years and must offer withdrawals to the Library of Congress.
- Highest State Appellate Court libraries are not bound by these rules.
- Regional libraries can supersede and substitute (tangible for tangible).

So you have permission to weed...Now what?

You can withdraw the material and:

- Update catalog/shelflist
- Stamp or mark as Withdrawn
- Put it on the National Needs & Offers List
- Give it away to other institutions who can make use of the material
- Recycle it
- Toss it

Your library cannot make money on the transfer.

Keep your eyes out for...

Regional Discard Policy

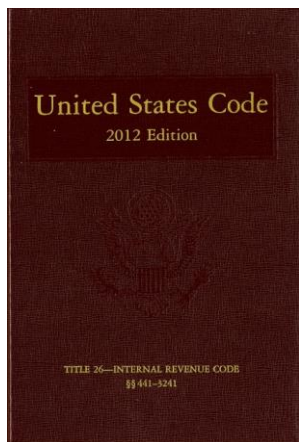

- Will permit regional depositories to substitute regional copies of material, provided they meet certain criteria
 - Material has been held for at least 7 years
 - Material is authenticated in FDsys/govinfo
 - At least 4 copies are held in geographically disbursed areas under Memorandum's of Agreement
- Regionals must have permission from GPO to weed.

Also keep an eye out for...

- FDLP eXchange
 - Weeding tool that your region may opt to implement
 - Streamlines the offering and claiming of materials
 - Enables Needs to match on Offers and alerts libraries of matches
 - Enables libraries to search lists in various ways

FDLP Rules - Title 44 USC

The laws applicable to the U.S. Depository Library Program are found in Chapter 19 of Title 44 of the United States Code. Sections 1901-1916 set forth the parameters of the program.

Under Title 44 U.S.C. § 1909, the Superintendent of Documents is charged to uphold U.S. Depository Library Program laws. These duties include, but are not limited to, the requirements to investigate depository library conditions, ascertain whether a library is compliant, make recommendations and, if necessary, to remove noncompliant libraries from the Depository Library Program.

FDLP Rules and Regulations - Historic

Instructions for Depository Libraries (ca. mid-20th C) – rules and regulations of the FDLP

FDL Manual (1985) – guide for carrying out FDLP operations

FDL Handbook (2007) - combination of rules and guidance (online only)

Legal Requirements & Program Regulations (LRPR)

- Regulations are based on Title 44 U.S.C. § § 1901 -1916 (2010) and further refine and clarify Federal depository library obligations
- They are not intended to provide in-depth guidance to help library staff gauge how to implement the regulations.
- For a more detailed explanation of how to implement regulations, consult the Guidance on FDLP.gov.

GPO Office Files (Print and Electronic)

What's in them?

- Designation and/or drop paperwork
- Biennial surveys
- Significant correspondence
- Selective housing agreements
- Memorandums of Understanding
- Assessments
 - Inspection reports
 - Self-studies
 - Public Access Assessments

Assessments and library visits

- Investigations of the conditions in depository libraries required by Title 44 U.S.C. §1909
- Ways GPO has done this:
 - Inspections (on site at the library)
 - Self-studies leading to inspections as needed
 - Public Access Assessments (phone call & remote review)
 - Library visits
 - Executives and/or LSCM/O&S staff
 - Can provide onsite training

Assessments

- They don't have to be intimidating or scary – they are an opportunity for communication.
- Benefit – An assessment can help you make your case internally for improvements or addressing issues.
- GPO highlights notable achievements and recommendations

Sample PAA Report

- Structure reflects LRPR
- Noncompliance = within a set time frame, address the issue or make a plan to address it
- Final report sent to: coordinator, library director, and regional

Biennial Survey of Depository Libraries

Required by law
(44 U.S.C. § 1909)

“The designated depository libraries shall report to the Superintendent of Documents at least every two years concerning their condition.”

Biennial Survey of Depository Libraries

- Electronic submission
- GPO uses its communication channels to announce the survey.
 - FDLP.gov, FDLP News and Events Announcements
 - Will contact non-responders via email, phone, and letters to directors
- See FDLP.gov to view questions from prior Biennial Surveys: <http://fdlp.gov/file-repository/biennial-survey>

Disasters or Renovations

Depository publications are Federal property, and access must be available at all times. Including the depository in library-wide planning is important to ensure that public services remain available.

Report a disruption in access to the depository collection and services to GPO and your regional depository.

- After a disaster, notify when it is safe to do so.
- When the disruption is planned for a remodel
- or collection move, notify beforehand with a Contingency Plan.

Kathy Bayer, GPO

Contingency Plans

Contingency plans typically include:

- Institution name and depository number
- Expected beginning and ending dates of closure
- Contact name at your institution for depository questions
- Extent of the curtailment of service

Contingency Plans

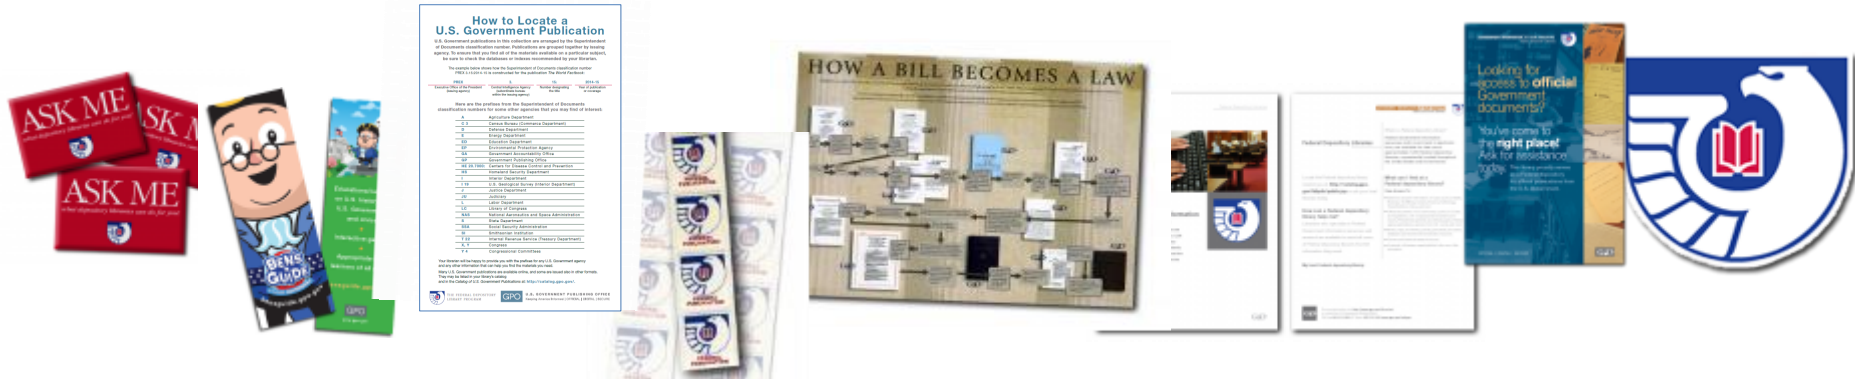

- Alternative strategies to be employed to fulfill Government information requests, including where the next closest depository is located. This may include:
 - Searching online to see if an electronic equivalent is available to use in lieu of a tangible copy housed in a temporary housing location
 - Gaining assistance from your regional depository library and other depositories to acquire copies of publications, if this process is more timely than retrieval from a temporary storage location
 - Arranging to set up public access computers and microfiche readers and printers in a new location
 - Notifying library users where they may find alternate access to Federal depository publications in all formats and related reference and other services

Contingency Plans

- Techniques for notifying primary clientele, other libraries (both depository and non-depository), and the general public of changes in service
- How your library will continue to check in new depository receipts or if shipments need to be temporarily halted

Promotion

Promotion should be ongoing and will raise the visibility of your depository to current and potential patrons.

Lots and lots of ideas and resources are available:

- FDLP.gov > Requirements and Guidance > Promotion
- Webinars, conference proceedings, listserv discussions, journal articles, etc.

What does “Visibility” mean?

In order to benefit from the resources of Federal depository libraries, the public and researchers must be aware that these valuable information resources exist and where they can receive assistance in using U.S. Government information.

“The depository collection and services must be visible to library users and potential users. For example, depository of Federal government information may be visible through cataloging, information on web pages, or other promotional efforts.” (#33, Legal Requirements and Program Regulations)

Visibility

Examples of activities that raise visibility include:

- Clear identification of the library as a Federal depository library (both in the library and online)
- Cataloging of U.S. Government resources that are in your library's catalog
- Prominent placement of tangible collections and public service points within the library building
- Training of public services personnel to identify and locate depository resources in the library and online
- Information sharing with nearby depository and non-depository libraries
- Ongoing promotional activities to all user groups
