Registry of U.S. Government Publication Digitization Projects

The Registry contains records for projects that include digitized copies of publications originating from the U.S. Government. It serves as a locator tool for publicly accessible collections of digitized U.S. Government publications; increases awareness of U.S. Government publication digitization projects that are planned, in progress, or completed; fosters collaboration for digitization projects; and provides models for future digitization projects.

To contribute to the Registry, login and use the "My Registry" tab to view, add, and edit your listings.

Introduction to the Government Documents Department

Free, open, and equal access to government information is crucial in a free society. The mission of the Frazier Memorial Library Government Documents Department is to maximize the social utility of government information to benefit the people in the 7th Congressional District of Louisiana. The goal of the Government Documents Department is to facilitate public access to government resources in a variety of formats. As a Selective Federal Depository Library, we collect 65% of the information distributed at no cost by the U. S. Government Printing Office. As a Complete Depository for Louisiana government publications, we receive most of the information distributed by the Louisiana Recorder of Documents. The Library's collection also includes international, regional, and local government information. Materials are available in print, microform, CD-ROM, and online. Some government information is stored in the Reference Department, Serials Department, and the general collection. Most are stored in the Government Documents Department on the fourth floor of the library. You can access government information through the library's online public access catalog, the library's web site, and the Government Information web site. Please feel free to visit the Government Documents Department. Our staff is ready to assist you.

GPO's Digitization and Preservation Initiatives

One of the strategic goals of the U.S. Government Printing Office (GPO) is to digitize a complete legacy collection of tangible U.S. Government publications to make sure that these materials are available, in the public domain, for permanent public access. The conversion of tangible materials will begin with printed publications, and will eventually include microfiche and other formats.

GPO will:

- Coordinate this effort;
- Assist in the establishment and implementation of standards;
- Maintain a registry of digitization projects;
- Serve as a trusted repository for preservation and access, in addition to any other places that the materials might be held;
- Certify and authenticate the electronic files; and
- Ensure that there is appropriate cataloging and metadata for the items in the collection.

The availability of an electronic legacy collection will allow depository libraries, including regional libraries, to manage their tangible collections more effectively, substituting electronic copies for tangible copies -- if they wish to do so.

FEDERAL AGENCIES DIGITIZATION GUIDELINES INITIATIVE

This site is a collaborative effort by federal agencies formed as a group in 2007 to define common guidelines, methods, and practices to digitize historical content in a sustainable manner. Recognizing that the effort would require specialized expertise, two separate working groups were formed with the possibility that more tightly focused groups might be necessary as the work progressed. The Federal Agencies Still Image Digitization Working Group will concentrate its efforts on image content such as books, manuscripts, maps, and photographic prints and negatives. The Federal Agencies Audio-Visual Working Group is focusing its work on sound, video, and motion picture film.
