askGPO Page

askGPO Home Page:

The askGPO home page is the starting point for all FDLP users to access the Federal Depository Library Directory (FDLD, Directory).

Once here, you will see the 'Login' button at the top right of the page as indicated in the screenshot above.

The 'Federal Depository Library Directory' page is now available through askGPO.gov via the tab in the navigation menu (indicated above) and through a link under the 'Important GPO Links' on the right side as shown.

Upon logging into askGPO and accessing the 'Federal Depository Library Directory', you will be logged into the FDLD page as well (since it is built on the askGPO platform). Since the FDLD page is part of askGPO, the navigation menu at the top of the page will remain the same as indicated in the screenshot below.

Have a question about services the U.S. Government Publishing Office provides?

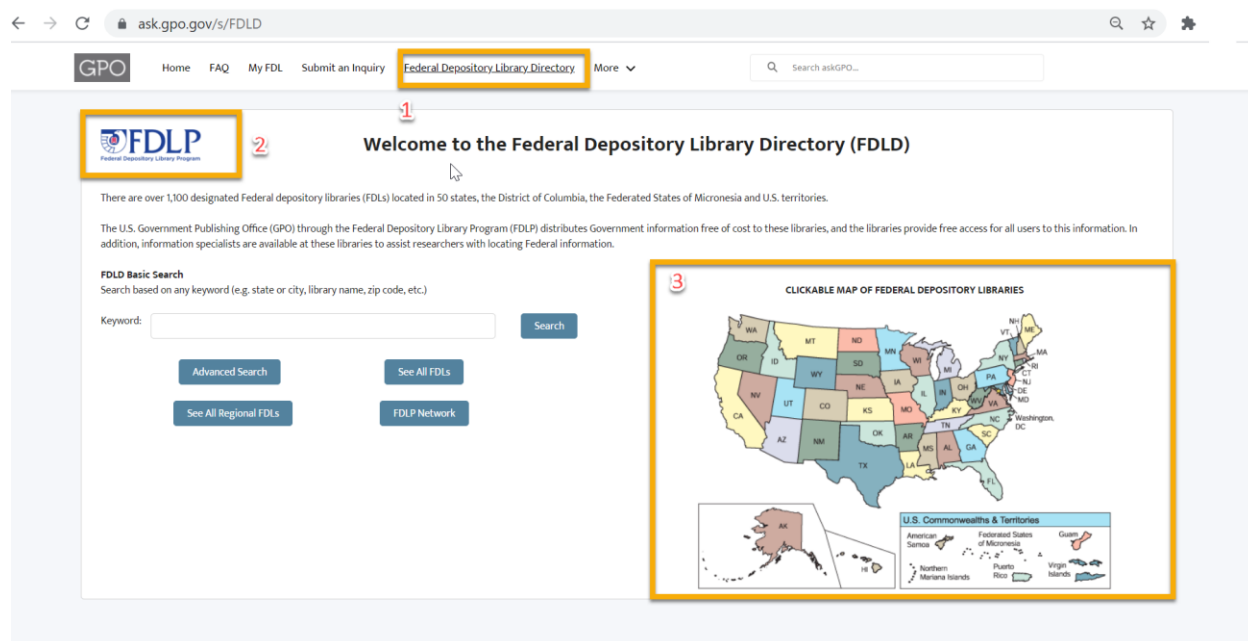

Welcome to the Federal Depository Library Directory (FDLD)

There are over 1,100 designated Federal depository libraries (FDLs) located in 50 states, the District of Columbia, the Federated States of Micronesia and U.S. territories.

The U.S. Government Publishing Office (GPO) through the Federal Depository Library Program (FDLP) distributes Government information free of cost to these libraries, and the libraries provide free access for all users to this information. In addition, information specialists are available at these libraries to assist researchers with locating Federal information.

FDLD Page

On the FDLD page, you will see some key features which will help you navigate the Directory.

1. FDLD tab

Clicking on the 'Federal Depository Library Directory' tab on the navigation menu will always bring you back to the main page.

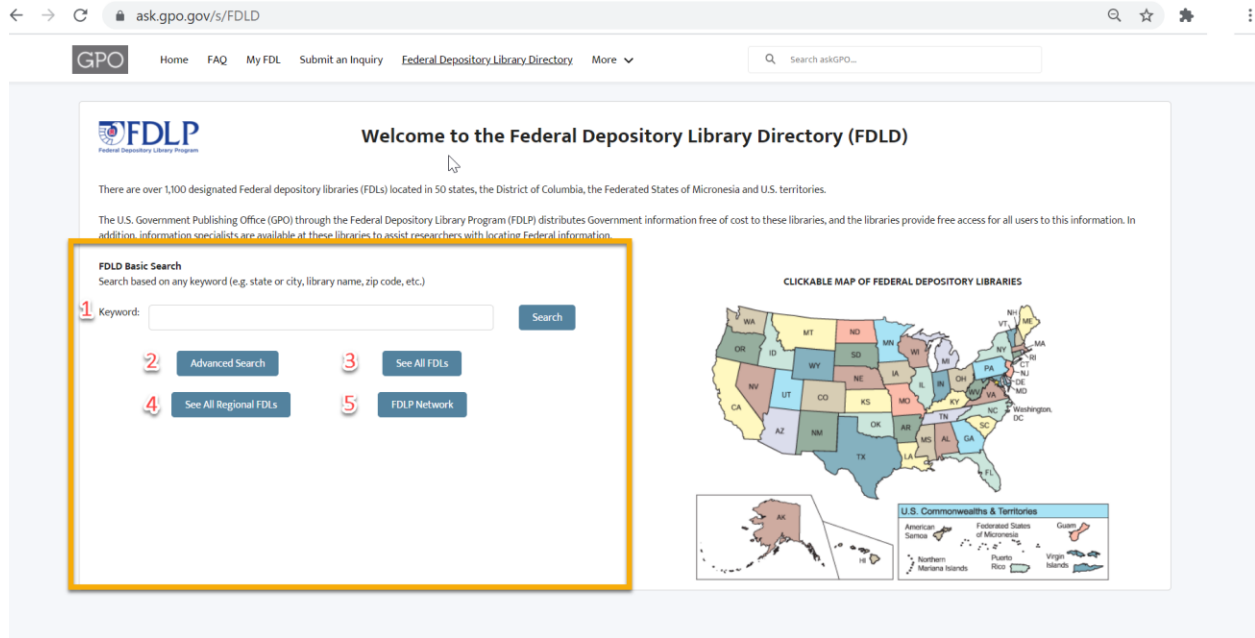

2. FDLP logo

Clicking on the FDLP logo will redirect you to the fdlp.gov website, which will open in a new tab.

3. Clickable map of Federal depository libraries (FDLs)

As indicated in the screenshot above, you can click on any state on the map to see a list of all FDLs in that state (both Regional and Selective). The individual U.S. Commonwealths and Territories are also clickable.

*If there are no FDLs in a location, then your page will not display any information.

FDLD Page buttons

On the FDLD page, the functionality related to buttons is explained in detail below:

1. FDLD Basic Search

If you need to search for a library name or state, you can do so by adding the data in the 'Keyword' box as shown below. You can also search for any other keyword that would appear on a library's individual Directory record. When ready, please click on the 'Search' button to see the results.

A search results page is shown below. If you need to see details related to any of the search results, click on the 'View' button next to the library you want to see.

3. See All FDLs

Clicking the 'See all FDLs' button will return a list of all the FDLs in the Directory.

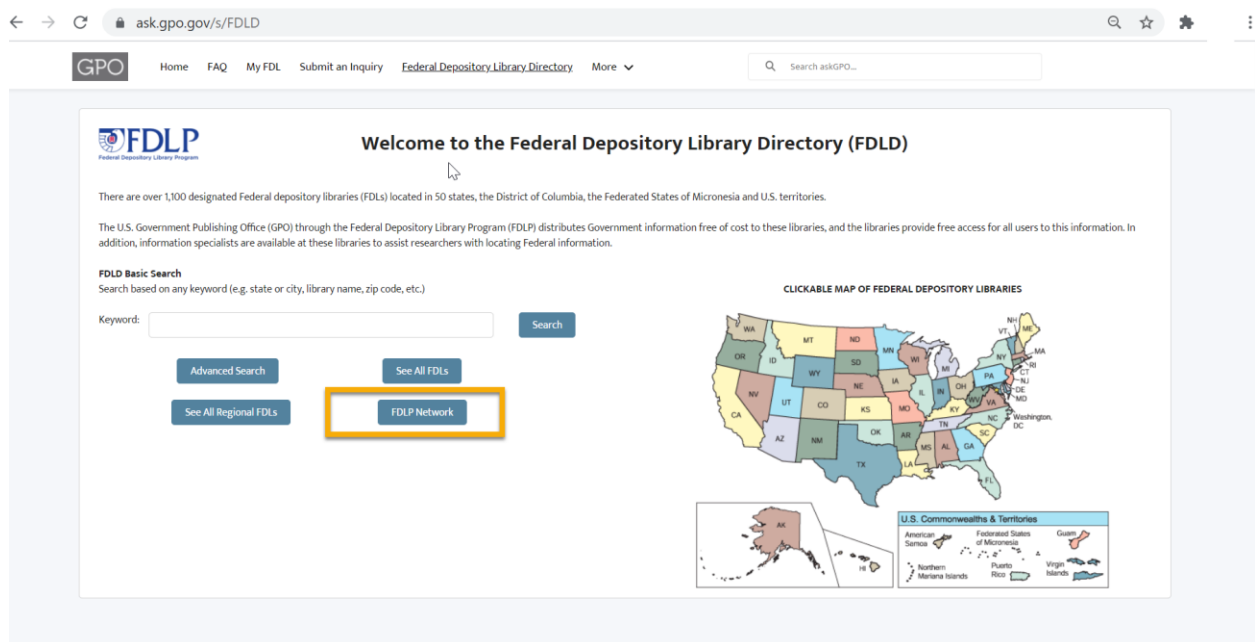

4. See All Regional FDLs

Clicking the 'See All Regional FDLs' button returns a list of all Regional FDLs.

5. FDLP Network Button

Clicking the 'FDLP Network' page redirects you to a page that includes a map of all FDLs showing which region they are in, and a list of all the regional libraries and the selective libraries in their states: <https://ask.gpo.gov/s/fdlp-network>.

Export Functionality

You can export a set of search results by clicking on the 'Export' button. You have a choice of three file types: XLS, CSV, or PDF.

Use the checkboxes next to each library to export only those libraries. If no boxes are selected, then the entire list of libraries will be exported in the chosen format.

The screenshot shows the GPO website's search results page. On the left, there are filter options for Address, Library, and Type. The main area displays search results in a table. A dropdown menu for 'Select a File Type' is open, showing options for XLS, CSV, and PDF. An 'Export' button is also visible. The table lists various libraries with their respective details.

Library Number	Parent Institution of Library	Library Name	City	State	Depository Type	View

0015	City of Birmingham	Birmingham Public Library	Birmingham	Alabama	Selective	View
0015A	Jefferson State Community College	James B. Allen Library	Birmingham	Alabama	Selective	View

 Exporting the results in a PDF format will only return 10 fields; exporting in XLS or CSV will return all fields.

The fields available to be exported in a PDF are:

- Library Number
- Parent Institution of library
- Library Name
- Street Address
- City
- State
- Zip
- Library Phone number
- Depository Website or Guide
- Depository Coordinator Name

Filter Search Functionality

On the left side of the search result page, you will see additional 'Filter By' criteria. These filters help you narrow down search results as necessary.

Filter By:

- Address: Includes fields for City, State (with a 'Select a State' dropdown), and Library Name.
- Library: Includes a 'Library Number' field.
- Type: Includes 'Depository Type' with radio buttons for 'Regional' and 'Selective', and 'Library Type' with a 'Select' dropdown.

Search Results:

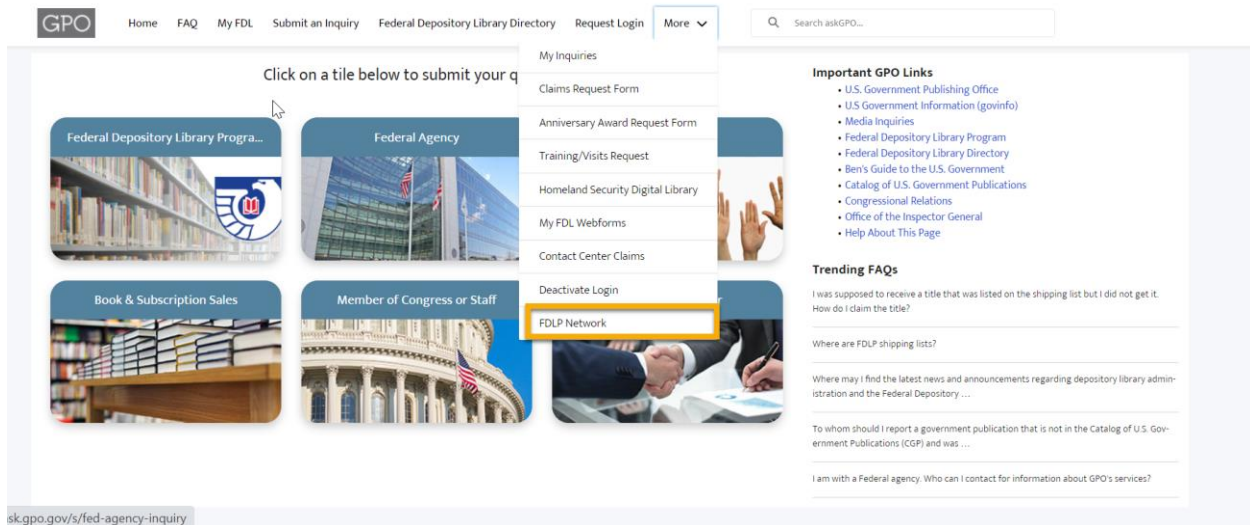

At the top of the search results area, there is a 'Select a File Type' dropdown, an 'Export' button, and an 'Advanced Search' button.

1. On the left is a list by state of the regional or regional depository libraries and all the selective depository libraries in that state.
2. On the right is a map showing the location of regional and selective libraries, as well as which regional depository(ies) serves which geographic area(s).

2. Interactive ArcGIS Map

The embedded, interactive map shows the location of all Federal depository libraries. Clicking on the dot for any library will result in a pop-up window with information about that library from the Directory.

Clicking on a state or a region (the blue or yellow polygons) will result in a pop-up window with information about what regional depository(ies) serves that region, and if there are any shared regional agreements in place.

Users can change the basemap, zoom in and out, and turn layers on and off on the map.

3. Clickable Library Names

From the list, you can click on any library name to visit that library's detail page.

The screenshot displays the 'Regional and Selective Federal Depository Libraries' page in ArcGIS. On the left, a list of libraries is organized by state. Two entries in the Alabama section are highlighted in yellow: 'Amelia Gayle Gorgas Library: Tuscaloosa, AL' and 'Auburn University at Montgomery Library: Montgomery, AL'. A yellow callout box points to these entries with the text: 'Clicking on Individual library will take the user to Library Detail Page.' On the right, the ArcGIS interface is visible, showing a map of the United States with a legend on the left. The legend includes categories for 'Multistate Regions and Regional Agreements', 'Selective Depositories', 'Regional Depositories', and 'Single State Regionals'. The map title is 'ArcGIS Regional 2021'.
