Aleph Version 18

- We are currently working on Implementing Version 18 on our test server
 - It is estimated this process of migrating to Version 18 will be completed early to mid-2008
- Once Test server process is complete, we will work to implement Version 18 on our production server
 - It is estimated this process of migrating to version 18 will be completed mid-2008

Enhancements to Version 18 that may impact functionality in the CGP

- Combining search and browse options in one menu
 - It is now possible to set up a single menu which combines the search and browse options.
- Conflicting headings - the "Categories" mechanism
 - Conflicting headings are headings with identical text that derive from fields of a different nature (for example a 100 personal name field and a 150 topical term field). Until version 18, such headings would match and create the “conflicting headings problem”. In version 18, the “categories mechanism” was introduced to prevent matching across different types of headings.
- Correction of tags and indicators (for the MARC21 format)
 - The authority control mechanism has been expanded to include correction of bibliographic field tags and indicators based on the linked authority record.

The z39.50 Bib-1 Use Attribute for GPO Item number

- 074 Subfield $a - GPO item number:
 - Subfield $a contains the GPO item number. Qualifiers such as MF for microfilm or “online” for electronic records are included in subfield $a.
 - Examples:
 - 074 ##$a0334-C-01
 - 074 ##$a0277-A-02 (MF)
 - 074 ##$a0461-B-19 (online)
 - 074 ##$a1002-B (MF)
 - There are also subfields $z for canceled/invalid GPO Item Numbers and $8 for field link and sequence numbers.
 - Examples:
 - 074 $z1012-A

Z39.50 GPO Item Number Attribute

Steps for implementation:

- Make a proposal for approval:
 - In response to the request from the z39.50 test sites (i.e., making 074## a z39.50 Bib-1 use attribute), GPO Library made the proposal in early September 2007. The proposal was registered with the z39.50 standard maintenance agency – Library of Congress Network Development and MARC Standards Office.
 - Through a super-express process, this proposal is approved!
 - <http://www.loc.gov/z3950/agency/defns/bib1.html#gpo>
- Next step – implementing this new attribute to make it usable.
 - As this attribute was very recently added, LTIS staff will begin researching the necessary configuration for implementing this
