3:30-5:00	War on Terrorism: What Information Resources are Out There? An evaluation of sites, publishers, books and journals	Washington Ballroom

- Brad Gernand, Library Director, Institute for Defense Analyses

- Greta Marlatt, Director, Naval Postgraduate School's Homeland Security Digital Library

- Brad Robison, Terrorism Information Center Director, Memorial Institute for the Prevention of Terrorism.

  Global terrorism continues to grip the attention of policy makers, emergency responders, business leaders and academicians in an effort to prepare, understand and perhaps prevent future terrorist acts. This presentation will focus on the efforts of three Department of Homeland Security funded information centers currently collecting and disseminating information related to terrorism and homeland security. Three panelists will discuss collections, databases and other content relevant to the topic.

3:30	I'll Get By With A Little Help from My Friends: Create a Local Government Documents Networking Group	Wilson/Harrison

- Sally Holterhoff, Valparaiso University School of Law

- Kirsten Leonard, INDIGO Chair/E-Resources & Documents Librarian, Indiana University Kokomo Library

- Judith Violette, Indiana University Purdue University Fort Wayne

  Two of the biggest challenges in government documents librarianship are keeping up with changes and new resources, and preventing the loss of expertise as documents librarians retire. A local association comprised of area government documents librarians can be a strong force in managing both these issues. Indiana Networking for Documents and Information of Government Organizations (INDIGO) is one example that provides a forum for the exchange of ideas and contributes to the education of government information librarians. This session will show how to create an organization for these purposes in your own area.

3:30-4:15	Hidden Treasures Redux: Government Publications in the Arts	Jackson

- Stephen Patrick, Professor and Head, Documents/Law/Maps, East Tennessee State University

  This presentation will highlight government publications in the arts and provide information pertaining to 21st century electronic resources and websites of note. A listing of official departments and agencies will be provided via a special webpage.

4:15-5:00	Encouraging An Informed Citizenry: Locating and Using Congressional Research Service Reports	Jackson

- Starr Hoffman, Librarian for Digital Collections, University of North Texas Libraries

- Bill Sleeman, Asst. Director for Technical Services, Thurgood Marshall Law Library, The University of Maryland School of Law

  This program will present an overview of Congressional Research Service (CRS) reports and their significant value to the public. The presenters will review current efforts being made to digitize, collect, and provide permanent public access to the reports, and discuss how documents librarians can find and promote use of these valuable resources.

5:30	Council Working Session	Crystal Ballroom A-B
6:00	Adjourn
7:00-9:00	GODORT and SLA/DGI Meeting	Washington Bllrm.

TUESDAY OCT. 16

8:00	Coffee with Council	Crystal Ballroom C

8:30 Council Session: Offering Services 24/7   Crystal Ballroom A-B
- Cynthia Etkin, Senior Program Planning Specialist, Office of the Superintendent of Documents, GPO

  At its Spring 2007 meeting, the Depository Library Council recommended that GPO establish a registry of librarians who are expert in specific parts or functions of the U.S. government. Learn about GPO's holistic approach to help achieve this.

8:30 New to FDLP GovDocs Land? New Documents Librarians Open Forum   Washington Ballroom
- Ann Marie Sanders, Library of Michigan
- Cass Hartnett, University of Washington
- Kathy Brazee, Librarian, Education and Outreach, GPO

  Experienced depository librarians and GPO staff will cover basic policies and procedures that should be in place in all Federal depository libraries and address your questions in this lively open forum session.

8:30 Government Information in the 21st Century: Training Non-depository Librarians   Wilson/Harrison
- Tim Byrne, Head, Government Publications, Norlin Library, University of Colorado at Boulder
- Kirsten Clark, Government Publications and Regional Depository Librarian, University of Minnesota
- Jennie Gerke, Electronic Government Information Librarian, University of Colorado
- Joe Anderson, Content Manager, WebJunction.org (OCLC)

  Join IMLS Grant staff to look at the "Government Information in the 21st Century" grant as it begins its second phase. This grant focuses on government information librarians training non-depository librarians in the use of online government resources. This program will look at how the training modules developed in WebJunction are being used in actual training sessions and workshops in the five-state Southwest region. Find out how the training sessions are developed, see examples of training materials, and participate in a panel discussion that includes grant staff, trainers, and attendees of the training session.

8:30 Agency Update: Consumer Product Safety Commission   Jackson
- Ed Kang, Spokesperson, Office of Public Affairs, Consumer Product Safety Commission

  A review of the agency's newest information products and services.

9:15	Agency Update: National Institute for Literacy	Jackson

- B. Denise Hawkins, Associate Director for Communications

- Darlene McDonald, Management and Contracts Analyst

Presenters will provide an overview of the Institute and its work on developing and producing easily accessible, quality print products that provide timely information about policy and practice to the field of adult literacy and build on evidence-based reading research to support parents, caregivers, and teachers with literacy and reading at home and in the classroom.

10:00	Break
10:30	Council Open Forum	Crystal Ballroom A-B

Questions from the audience and discussion with Council.

10:30	FDLP Desktop – More Than Just Another Password	Washington Ballroom

- Karen Sieger, Manager, Web Content Management, GPO

This will be an interactive demonstration of the features and functionality of the FDLP Desktop. Come learn what your password can do for you and bring your questions.

10:30	You Can Do It: Successful Stories about Government Document Collection Reviews	Wilson/Harrison

- Diane Eidelman, Adult Services Coordinator, Suffolk Cooperative Library System

- Kathy Wu, Government Information Librarian, Business & Government Information Library, University of Rochester

The University of Rochester library recently completed a comprehensive review of the government document scollection. The goals, procedures, and unique tools developed by staff to complete the project will be presented. The Suffolk Cooperative Library System has been working toward a more electronic depository environment for the past several years. The Wayne State University Arthur Neef Law Library shifted to a mostly all electronic depository collection between 2003-5. This panel will discuss why these libraries undertook these projects, how they did it and at what stage of these processes they are now.

10:30	Agency Update: STAT-USA	Jackson

- Terri Long, Multimedia Marketing Specialist, STAT-USA, U.S. Department of Commerce

A review of the agency's newest information products and services.

	Questions and discussion with GPO staff.
3:30	Designing Your Own E-Government Services Program	Wilson/Harrison

- Steve Beleu, Regional Depository Librarian, Oklahoma Department of Libraries
- Suzanne Sears, Head of Government Documents, University of North Texas

  We will demonstrate e-government websites and online databases from federal, state, and other sources that you can use to design your own suite of e-government services for your library. You will learn what demands different websites and databases will place upon your library's resources, and can then choose wisely which e-government services you will offer to your library customers and which you will not.

3:30	Destruction and Recovery at Tulane's Main Library	Jackson

- Larry Meyer, Director, San Bernardino County Law Library
- Eric Wedig, Interim Associate Dean for Services and Chief Bibliographer for Social Sciences and Government Publications, Howard-Tilton Memorial Library, Tulane University

  Two years ago Hurricane Katrina left the basement of the library's main building—an area larger than a football field—filled with more than eight feet of water. The basement housed a music library and very large collections of government documents, newspapers, and microforms. A major operation was quickly staged to salvage and restore materials from these areas. This program will describe the condition of the collection after the inundation, what has been accomplished and lessons learned during the past two years.

5:30	Council Working Session	Crystal Ballroom A-B
6:00	Adjourn
7:00-9:00	Regional Meeting	Washington Ballroom

WEDNESDAY OCT. 17

8:00	Coffee with Council	Crystal Ballroom C

8:30	Council Plenary Session: E-1 AELIC's Survey on Authentication of Government Information: A Year Later and Still Challenging	Crystal Ballroom A-B

- Mary Alice Baish, AALL Associate Washington Affairs Representative
- Sally Holterhoff, Government Information/Reference Librarian, Valparaiso University School of Law
- Peter Lefevre, Law Revision Counsel, U.S. House of Representatives
- Frank D. Wagner, Reporter of Decisions, U.S. Supreme Court
- Mike Wash, Chief Technical Officer, GPO

   This panel will share detailed information about how states and the Federal government are dealing with authentication of legal information. Learn how AALL has proactively risen to the challenge to educate legislators, judges and others about the need for digital information and how AALL is challenging all levels of government to implement standards to properly authenticate their electronic legal information.

10:00	Break
10:30	Council Session: Library Technical Services Update	Crystal Ballroom A-B

- Laurie Beyer Hall, Director, Library Technical Information Services, GPO

   This session will cover new activities and initiatives in Library Technical Information Services, including brief bibliographic records, Federal Depository Library Directory projects, new ILS functionality, etc.

10:30	Persistent Problem Patrons: What To Do when a Patron Is Violating Library Conduct Policy	Washington Ballroom

- Kristina Bobe, Government Documents Reference Librarian, Georgetown University
- George A. Kline, Documents Specialist, Toledo-Lucas County Public Library
- Mary Webb Prophet, Deputy Director, Denison University Libraries

   Balancing Depository access and the needs of patrons for an environment that fosters research and study in safe surroundings can be a challenge. This presentation presents a review of depository requirements, samples of actual patron problem situations with reviews of policies, procedures, and techniques for handling them and an introduction to GPO procedures in the event of a patron complaint.

10:30	Harvesting for the Future: the Indiana Light Archive of Government Information	Wilson/Harrison

- Bert Chapman, Government Information and Political Science Librarian, Purdue University Libraries
- Lou Malcomb, Head, Government Information, Microforms, Herman B Wells Library, Indiana University-Bloomington
- Katharine Springer, Federal Documents Librarian II, Reference and Government Services Division, Indiana State Library
- Cheryl B. Truesdell, Associate Library Director, Helmke Library Indiana University - Purdue University

    With leadership from the Indiana State Library, Indiana University, Purdue University, and the University of Notre Dame, the depository libraries in Indiana are working together to establish a "light" archive, with the goal of harvesting at least one print copy from their collections to be retained forever for use by all. Presentation will focus on how this model might be used within GPO's framework for a "shared depository" agreement.

10:30-11:15	Data Mining in the Biennial Survey	Jackson

- Mark Anderson, Reference Librarian, James A. Michener Library, University of Northern Colorado

    The Biennial Survey can be used to create a tool for evaluating trends in the FDLP and for creating a peer group analysis tool for assessing ones own depository operation. My project involves collecting data on the depositories that have integrated their documents into the library's main collection.

11:15-12:00	Enhancing NASA Fiche Records with Links to Online Content	Jackson

- Christopher C. Brown, Reference/Documents Librarian, Penrose Library, University of Denver

    It's painful to see thousands of fiche records in the OPAC that you know full well are online, but the records do not so indicate. This talk shows how the University of Denver enhanced NASA fiche records by adding 24,000 links to NASA Technical Report Server content in relatively little time. Instructions will be provided for libraries wishing to do provide similar access.

12:00	Lunch Break On Your Own

1:30	Council Plenary Session: Regionals at the Crossroads	Crystal Ballroom A-B

- Charles Bernholz, Government Documents Librarian, University of Nebraska, Lincoln
- David Cismowski, Senior Librarian, Government Publications Section, California State Library
- Cindy Etkin, Senior Program Planning Specialist, Office of the Superintendent of Documents, GPO
- Arlene Weible, Cataloging Services Librarian, Oregon State Library

    This session will explore how Regionals are coping with the challenges of today's information environment. While some issues stem from the traditional regional/selective structure, others are the result of the FDLP's transition to a primarily online program. Hear panelists describe how selectives and regionals are working together to solve problems and face the challenges of today's environment. Selectives are encouraged to attend this session, it's not just for regionals.
