True Confessions

Opportunities and Challenges

- How to avoid duplicating existing federal pages in the State?
- How to make a unique contribution to our clients?
- How to work with PMachine?

Who are our clients?

How can we provide focused federal reference assistance?

- NM Public libraries
- NM Remote patrons – no access to libraries or bookmobiles
- NM Students
- NM State government

How could we create a Federal Page that was uniquely New Mexican?

- Focus on issues of relevance to New Mexicans
- Focus on state and local statistics

New Mexico State Library

A Division of the Department of Cultural Affairs

- Could we use local news resources in combination with the flexibility of PMachine to develop a structure for regional alert service?

The Process- New Mexico News Plus

- Daily review of the papers
- Locate federal reports, statistics, court cases, regulations, legislation or pages with contact information
- Link article to federal document or relevant content
- Update page – preferably by nine am

Immediate benefits

- Reference staff aware of current developments – ahead of our patrons
- Heightened awareness of current developments at local agencies
- Collection development truly unique to area
- Consistency

New Mexico State Library

A Division of the Department of Cultural Affairs

- Need to be willing to make commitment
- Need to be able to update autonomously
- Need back up for difficult days

Strength: built from local papers

Weakness: built from local papers

Compromise for regional focus

Who Will Use It?

- Public libraries
- Community activists
- Students
- State government policy makers
- Anyone tracking local interests

How can we get the word out?

- Local community colleges/high schools
- News papers and TV Stations
- Legislative Offices
- State and local library conferences and workshops

NMSL Federal Page

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Internet Explorer browser window displaying the New Mexico State Library website. The address bar shows the URL: http://www.stlib.state.nm.us/services_more.php?id=184_0_13_0_M64. The page title is "New Mexico State Library - Services to the Public test test test".

The website header includes the New Mexico State Library logo and navigation links: "State Librarian's Office", "Site Search", "News & Events", and "Ask A Librarian". A "Services to the Public Categories" sidebar lists: "Bookmobiles & Books by Mail", "Circulation & Interlibrary Loan", "Federal & State Government Information", "Foundation Center & Grants", "Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped", "Reference & Information Services", and "Southwest".

The main content area is titled "Federal Information Resources for New Mexico" and includes a "Printer Friendly Page" link. The text on the page reads:

Census Information

About Federal Publications at the New Mexico State Library

The New Mexico State Library was designated as a selective federal depository library in 1960 and a regional federal depository in 1962. As a regional library, the State Library receives and permanently retains all information distributed by the Government Printing Office regardless of format. Most federal publications can be borrowed directly or through your local library with an Interlibrary Loan request.

The State Library also collects documents and participates in the following programs:

- WIPP (Waste Isolation Pilot Plant) reading room
- EPA Docket (pertaining to WIPP)
- State Data Center (Census)

Finding Federal Publications in SALSA

Federal titles published after 1976 are included in the SALSA Online Catalog. The catalog lists titles that are available electronically as well as those in our paper collection.

The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the Start button, several open Internet Explorer windows, and the system clock displaying 4:39 PM on 10/10/2006.

From identification to preservation

- New Mexico News Plus helps to identify local, “born digital”, limited copies, and “fugitives”, but now what????

» Long-term access

Incentives to preserve digital copy

- Long term access to state, federal and local info published exclusively on the web, or published in limited supply in paper or microform and available right now on the web
- Provide same level of access/cataloging to digital items as paper/microform/CD

Chose OCLC DA because

It met the needs for our State Depository Program:

- Can use MARC record, and provide full catalog record for materials in our iPac
- Provides long-term access
- NM State Depositories, or any library, can add the record/ state document to their iPac
- No new software or hardware; we can focus on content rather than technology

Overview of the DA

- Subscription in Connexion
- Worldcat bib record
- “Original” URL (short-term access)
and DA URL (long-term access)
- Off-site or local storage
- Access via Internet
- Can export bib or copy DA url to your iPac

Documents/materials

- Any MARC bibliographic format:
serials, monographs, electronic resources
- Pdf, html, txt, gif, tif, jpg, bmp, css, js

Choices for Digital Archive

- Choices for each item individually, or by collection
- Level of harvest—actually “creates publication”, eg. web page, single document, on the fly pub
- Public or limited access to materials; i.e. whole world or a range of IPs
 - ✓ set by your Firstsearch or Cataloging logons
- Content management

Federal Documents Collection Development for DA

- New Mexico or local item in “New Mexico News Plus”
- Locally published federal items
- Occasional high profile docs (Taguba, Bush interrogation docs) not readily available in paper or thru GPO—fugitives
- NOT—paper serials, eg. Public Laws, Supreme Court Cases, Federal Register, bills, resolutions, etc.

Benefits to Depository Libraries

- Born digital documents in fed and state collections
- Direct digital access from your iPac
- Federal fugitive documents-
 - ✓ collection of local documents
 - ✓ important documents of national concern
- Maps, charts better quality, and in color
- Digital copy better quality than microfiche
- Less processing/handling/staff time (30 copies of state depository docs)

Workflow

1. ID item using New Mexico News Plus
2. Fits Collection Development policy?
3. Catalog record or Marcive record?
4. Create Digital Archive link, harvest and ingest item to local iPac
5. Bib with DA link is now available for public viewing
