

Depository Library Council to the Public Printer

Mission

Adopted November 1, 1993

To assist the Government Printing Office in identifying and evaluating alternatives for improving public access to government information through the Depository Library Program (DLP) and for optimizing resources available for operating the Program.

Charter

Adopted November 1, 1993

The purpose of the Depository Library Council to the Public Printer is to provide advice on policy matters dealing with the Depository Library Program as provided in Title 44, U.S.C. The primary focus of Council's work will be to advise the Public Printer, the Superintendent of Documents, and appropriate members of GPO staff on practical options for the efficient management and operation of the DLP.

The Depository Library Council shall be structured to provide the Public Printer with a diverse range of opinion and expertise. Additionally, it shall represent a cross section of the various types of libraries in the Depository Library Program. In order to meet this goal, at least half of the Council's members shall work in depository libraries and have experience in a Documents Department.

Membership

Adopted November 1, 1993

The Depository Library Council shall consist of fifteen members appointed by the Public Printer. The members shall serve three year terms, with five members retiring each year and five new members entering. The Council shall meet a minimum of twice each year with the meetings approximately six months apart. (Hereafter referred to as the spring and fall meetings.) New members shall be appointed prior to the spring meeting and will assume duty at the fall meeting. Vacancies on the Council will be filled in cases where the remaining term is at least 1 ½ years. All appointments to Council will be made by the Public Printer after consideration of recommendations from Council, library associations and others as deemed appropriate by the Public Printer. Members may be appointed for additional terms.

Each fall, members of the Depository Library Council shall select a Chair-elect of Council. The Chair-elect shall assume the office of Chair following the next spring meeting. Members of Council may serve more than one term as Chair. The Chair shall preside over all meetings of Council, shall be responsible for the agendas for the fall and spring meetings, shall appoint such committees as necessary to carry out the duties of Council, and shall serve as direct liaison between Council and the Public Printer. In the absence of the Chair, these duties shall be carried out by the Chair-elect or in absence of the Chair-elect by a designate appointed by the Chair.

At the spring meeting, members of the Depository Library Council shall select a Secretary of Council. The Secretary shall assume office prior to the fall meeting of Council. The Secretary may serve more than one term of office. It is the responsibility of the Secretary to prepare a summary report of each meeting for publication in Administrative Notes and posting on the Federal Depository Library Bulletin Board. The Secretary shall handle correspondence and other record keeping at the request of the Chair. In the absence of the Secretary, the Chair shall appoint a member of Council to serve in that capacity.

Notice of official meetings of the Depository Library Council shall be published in the Federal Register and mailed to members of Council at least 30 days prior to the meeting date. All such meetings will be open to the public.

This document may be modified by the Public Printer or by a majority vote of Council.

Brief History of the Depository Library Council

The Depository Library Council to the Public Printer was established in 1972 and held its first meeting in February 1973. Its antecedents go back to 1963 when seven librarians were asked by the Public Printer to serve on an advisory committee on depository libraries. The original advisory committee was formed at the recommendation of the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration during its consideration of revised legislation on depository libraries. While the particular focus and role of the council has adapted over time, its central purpose has remained constant: to advise the Public Printer and the Superintendent of Documents on matters relating to the Federal Depository Library Program (FDLP).

Over the years, the Council has offered advice and recommendations on matters relating to the indexing, classification, cataloging, distribution, format, storage, utilization, and administration of depository material. Council also has advised the Public Printer on information policy issues affecting depository libraries and the Federal Depository Library Program.

The following is a brief sampling of some of the past contributions and accomplishments of Council:

- Guidelines for the Depository Library System and Federal Depository Library Manual
- Recommended Minimum Technical Guidelines for Depository Libraries
- Depository library decal
- Publication of Public Documents Highlights which later became Administrative Notes
- Microform Project Initiatives
- Distribution of the Publications Reference File (PRF) to depository libraries
- Developed a comprehensive Inspection Form and process for depository libraries
- Use study of depository libraries
- Regional depository library meetings
- List of Superseded Depository Documents That May Be Discarded
- Pilot projects for the study of electronic dissemination of government information
- Guidelines and priorities for GPO online cataloging of government documents
- Open forums for information exchange and discussion of issues concerning the depository library community
- Report on Alternatives for Restructuring the Depository Library Program
- Clearinghouse for testimonial letters and news articles in support of depository libraries and the FDLP
- "Federal Depository Libraries: Your source for yesterday's, today's & tomorrow's government information" brochure
- Fulfilling Madison's Vision: Testimonials in Support of the FDLP
