I can see them now

Alberto Pagan-Ramirez - 13:47
Yes

Wendy Robertson - 13:47
I am able to forward the slide on my own - you might try that if you still see the worng slide

Mary Ries - 13:47
I am sorry but I am still seeing the poll slide

Anne Zald - 13:47
at the top of the poll slide you may see a number with left/right arrows - use the arrows to advance the slide

Marie Concannon - 13:47

Participants can advance the slides themselves using the left and right arrows just above the slide window

Kathy Hale - 13:47
I had to go forward them myself.

Tiffanie Wick - 13:47
Still seeing the poll slide.

Eugene Mckeiver Jr - 13:47
Still seeing the poll

Angela Bonnell - 13:47
I was able to move the slide manually

Cynthia Etkin - 13:48

Angela Bonnell - 13:48
by clicking the right arrow

Lindsay Tebeck - 13:48
how do you forward?

above the slides, click >

Brenna Buchanan - 13:49
I am having success moving the slides along by clicking on the arrows up top. That might work for some people.

Dominique Hallett - 13:49
above the yellow title bar there is < # > use the carrots to advance or go back

Kathy Hale - 13:49
Right under where she is speaking there is a number with an arrow to the right.

Daniel Cornwall - 13:50
IF Kate will announce the title of each slide, that will help those of us needing to advance manually.

Charlie she-her Amiot - 13:50
It needs advancing.

Daniel Cornwall - 13:50
Thanks!

Elissa Lawrence - 13:51
The arrows are above the slides

Leslie Carr - 13:51
not seeing slides

Kathy Wu - 13:51
no

Elisabeth Garner - 13:52
Right, we'll be switching from Sierra to Alma next summer 2025

Leslie Carr - 13:52
ok, thank you

Charlie she-her Amiot - 13:52
Closed Captioning also just failed out.

Elissa Lawrence - 13:54
Wow, my chat is coming through about 2 minutes after I submit. That's a new one.

Christine Fletcher - 13:54
I got the slides to come up formteh main conference page clickign on Handouts.

Becki White - 13:55
+1 Elissa - I noticed that too!

Rich Gause - 13:55
we've begun discussion in Florida (state universities & colleges) using Alma regarding activating govdocs Collections

Kelly Seifert - 13:55
Apologies folks - the polling feature has been cranky today

Kathy Hale - 13:56
That table would be extremely helpful.

Becki White - 13:56
I've been trying to email with other depositories in our catalog consortia, but it's a bit like pulling teeth to get a conversation going.

Kathy Piselli - 13:59
captions have disappeared

Charlie she-her Amiot - 13:59
Comments are on major delay.

Cynthia Etkin - 13:59
@ Kathy Hale, which table?

Tim Lozier - 13:59
Got kicked out, just got back in!

Greg March - 13:59
Having a Libguide would be very helpful. A place to go as a one stop for everyhting related to this topic.

Elissa Lawrence - 13:59
I'm glad it's not just me, Becki!

Mary-Ellen Petrich - 13:59
I'm also able to move the slides manually myself

Kaylee Erdos - 14:00
I am not longer seeing the slides after rejoining after being kicked out.

Charlie she-her Amiot - 14:00
Me either, Kaylee. WebEx.

Amy Ruhe - 14:00
yes, a libguide would be helpful.

Arlene Fialkoff - 14:00
Same here, Kaylee!

Isobel Moody - 14:00

#NAME?

Fang Gao - 14:00
Same here.

Arlene Fialkoff - 14:00
I thought I broke some rule!

Kathy Piselli - 14:00
slides are gone

Chhann Ya - 14:00
i was kicked out too!

Gina Brandon - 14:00
got kicked out also. no slides

Tim Lozier - 14:00
Now I can't see the slides

Celina McDonald - 14:01
Same problems with kicked out + no slides.

Kathy Wu - 14:01
cannot see the slides

Chhann Ya - 14:01
I can no longer see the slides

Lawrence Mello - 14:01
There are no slides since I was kicked out of the session.

Kathy Piselli - 14:01
same

Charlie she-her Amiot - 14:01
My slides came back after a minute. I think there is a serious WebEx bandwidth issue.

Laura Gricius-West - 14:01 what slide are we on?

Marie Concannon - 14:01
In a poll of FDLP coordinators in my state, nearly everyone strongly agreed that a training session on cessation of catalog records would be needed. But when I asked what specific questions people had, just two responded. I take from this that "we don't know what we don't know" and that it's not a matter of just asking a quick question on a forum (although I do welcome the forum). My interpretation of these results is that the community needs a series of trainings that start with square one, review all the implications, pros, cons, costs, etc. and brings them up to the present moment. Only then will their libraries have all they need for informed decision making.

Wendy Robertson - 14:01
Link to slides: https://secure.iCohere.com/FDLP-Fall2024/ic180146

Ginney Bilbray - 14:02
speakers sound like darth vader

Leslie Carr - 14:02
can't see slides

Celina McDonald - 14:02
dont pop out!

Wendy Robertson - 14:02
I think we are on slide 25

Celina McDonald - 14:02
it took 15 min to get back in

Kaylee Erdos - 14:02
What is the current slide?

Ashlee Tierney - 14:02
I can see the slides but I have to change each slide manually -- can we get updates when we change slides?

Elizabeth Goode - 14:02
25

Kaylee Erdos - 14:02
Thank you!

Arlene Fialkoff - 14:02
Thanks for the explanation!

Ashlee Tierney - 14:02
Thank you!

Debra Gomes - 14:02
We are on slide #25

Kaylee Erdos - 14:02
They are back for me.

Marina Bacchetti - 14:02
One can advance the slides manually with arrows at top of slides

Francis Norton - 14:02
I can manually advance the slides.

Priya Subramanian - 14:03
I've logged out twice and come back in but the slides do not show.

Arlene Fialkoff - 14:03
Me too!

Susanne Caro - 14:03
There was a recent Academy webinar on GitHub https://fdlp.gov/training/lscm-github-repositories-webcast-series

Christine Fletcher - 14:03

FYI GODORT has an few cataloging libguides for gov info.
https://godort.libguides.com/sb.php?subject_id=156298

ben amata - 14:03
i can move through them manually myself

Kate Pitcher - 14:03
There are a series of webcasts in the FDLP Academy Training Repositor on using GitHub We have a series on webcasts on GitHub in the Academy: https://fdlp.gov/training/lscm-github-repositories-webcast-series

Nicole Barnabei - 14:03
Popped out and logged back in and slide hasn't moved

Lisa Russell - 14:03
You can also download the slides here: https://secure.iCohere.com/FDLP-Fall2024/ic180146

Christine Fletcher - 14:04
test

Marie Concannon - 14:04
FDLP librarians with public services background feel in the dark about what happens in the background with cataloging. Catalogers feel in the dark about what is changing with vendor services, FDLP regulations, and what the public services librarians want.

Becki White - 14:04
More fun: I can see the slides, but they keep jumping back to slide #20, LOL.

Kaylee Erdos - 14:04
Above the slide, you should see the page number (currently Page 18) and use the arrow to advance to the next slide individually.

Kaylee Erdos - 14:05
Same, Becki!

Ella Shurr - 14:05
I'm also experiencing that (jumps to page 20)

Sinai Wood - 14:05
Not just what slide but what the slide title says

Mark Hamilton - 14:06
I am able to change slides within WebEx

Brylynn Ellis - 14:06
I cannot access the slides on the conference page. I click on the slides link and it will ask me to sign in. I sign in and take me to the conference page to restart the process again.

Brianne Hagen - 14:06
Captions are still unavailable

Susanne Caro - 14:07
are technical issues on the bingo sheet?

Rich Gause - 14:07
into the weeds: Alma Community Zone Collections of potential interest to discuss - 613170000000000069 and 613790000000000947 and 614330000000001323 and 613790000000000919

Kelly Seifert - 14:07
There is a webex issue with the polls. It is causing a lag in the slides and chat advancing. We are trying to troubleshoot

Sinai Wood - 14:07
lol Suzanne

Susanne Caro - 14:07
current slide is 25

Becki White - 14:07
+1 Susanne :)

Andrea Stelljes - 14:08
#NAME?

Samantha Thompson-Franklin - 14:08
we seen to be able to advance slides manually

Daniel Cornwall - 14:08
Slide 28 at 8 minutes past the hour

Daniel Cornwall - 14:09
Er slide 32 at 9 minutes past hour

Amy Fitch - 14:09
Mine keeps bouncing back to page 20

Mark Hamilton - 14:09
me too Amy

Scott Briggs - 14:09
+1 Amy

Amy Fitch - 14:09
Yes

Elizabeth Goode - 14:10

My slides are bouncing back too

Sinai Wood - 14:10
32 in the slide deck so please tells us the title of the slide as well

Gabrielle Diaz - 14:10
lol

Sinai Wood - 14:11
Oh snap, my full comment does not go through

Kelly Seifert - 14:11
To advance the slides, there is an arrow to the right just above the slide deck. Kate is on slide 19 right now

Susanne Caro - 14:12
+1 Amy

Becki White - 14:12
I think my biggest question is how do I set a routine to go through and find records that should be deleted from our catalog. Are there best practices for this?

Marina Bacchetti - 14:13
Marcive's sudden and imminent closure has thrown everyone for a loop. So, we're all scrambling to find a center to go forward.

Gwen Sinclair - 14:14
from Marie Concannon to Everyone: 8:01 AM In a poll of FDLP coordinators in my state, nearly everyone strongly agreed that a training session on cessation of catalog records would be needed. But when I asked what specific questions people had, just two responded. I take from this that "we don't know what we don't know" and that it's not a matter of just asking a quick question on a forum (although I do welcome the forum). Only then will their libraries have all they need for informed decision making.

Lisa Russell - 14:14
here's Marie's post (if it will let me paste) from Marie Concannon to everyone: 2:01 PM In a poll of FDLP coordinators in my state, nearly everyone strongly agreed that a training session on cessation of catalog records would be needed. But when I asked what specific questions people had, just two responded. I take from this that "we don't know what we don't know" and that it's not a matter of just asking a quick question on a forum (although I do welcome the forum). My interpretation of these results is that the community needs a series of trainings that start with square one, review all the implications, pros, cons, costs, etc. and brings them up to the present moment. Only then will their libraries have all they need for informed decision making.

Barbara Moreno - 14:14
Are many libraries converting from mostly print to mostly electronic documents? What problems are libraries experiencing?

Susan Ashby - 14:14
My sound is fine

Daniel Cornwall - 14:15
Audio is fine here in Alaska.

Susanne Caro - 14:15
Thank you to everyone for putting up with the techincal issues, it does keep things interesting. :)

Kelly Seifert - 14:15
There is a significant lag in posting chats as well.

Dominique Hallett - 14:15
is there an easy way to find records with broken links? Is there a "watch list" that after a certain period they move do a "dead" list?

Sinai Wood - 14:15
Barbara, I'm converting to electronic. Thankfully my catalogers are fully engaged in the process. FDLP eXchange has been problematic.

Elisabeth Garner - 14:15
@Barbara, we switched to almost entirely digital FDLP collections. We only kept the U.S. Code going forward. We have kept a few print titles to dispaly in our Reading Room, but that is all....:(

Amy Fitch - 14:16
+1 A dead list would be helpful

Amy Fitch - 14:16
+1 Dominique

David Cox - 14:16
I couldn't get the slides to download on the site, the Slides link leads to a login page and I login and am back at the conference homepage instead

Susanne Caro - 14:16
+1 Amy

Elizabeth Goode - 14:17
We are in the beginning stages of weeding out all our physical items to only have digital

Tanya Kimmet - 14:17
Since they've ceased sending print, won't we all be electronic as the 5 year time limit weeds out the shelves by "attrition"? Is there anyone keeping things over 10 years old?

Scott Briggs - 14:17
We used to get regular updates from Marcive with dead links.

Sinai Wood - 14:18
and to continue my response, we're keeping the older materials but heavily weeding

David Cox - 14:18
oh wow my chat from a while ago just showed up... I did find the slides download from the Handouts section, thanks to the chat

Barbara Moreno - 14:18
Thank you! We are planning on keeping a few print but mostly have electronic.

Marina Bacchetti - 14:18
The discussion forum sounds good. Who is going to spearhead it? FDLP?

Kathy Hale - 14:18
Many of the libraries are asking about substitutions of electronic annd tangible.

Sinai Wood - 14:18
start talking and getting your catalogers involved!!!

Dominique Hallett - 14:19
Marcive sent changed records, which I assume took care of those dead link issues, but not sure if OCLC or any other services do that

David Cox - 14:19
OCLC cataloging is very expensive, we've had to cut it

Jocelyn Baldwin - 14:19
We have been weeding out physical and going to electronic. We belong to Elsevier (?) and they have all the Goverment electronic records so we don;t have to do electronic cataloging.

Sam Wassink - 14:20
My library is absorping the cast off physical items and we're frantically cataloging those items now along with shifting our own selections to electronic

Becki White - 14:20
I am trying to find a balance between adding a few records to our catalog and figuring out what links to add to my gov docs web page, but we do not have access to a LibGuides-type resource so it's necessarily basic.

Kate Pitcher - 14:20
GPO gets many inquiries about PURLs that don't work and there are many different situations. GPO monitors and addresses broken PURLs.

Amy Fitch - 14:20
@Sam Wassink where do you find the room?

Sinai Wood - 14:21
Try to use eXchange to help with the national collection development

Marina Bacchetti - 14:21
With 93% of depositories being in academic libraries and 28% of depositories in public libraries, the concerns and collections are different for both. So how are we going to address and forum that brings these two types of library depositories together? A forum for academic libraries? A forum for public libraries?

Jocelyn Baldwin - 14:21
We are using Exchange to offer to our Regional (Univ of Minn) then discarding the physical

David Cox - 14:21
The slides from the Handouts section worked perfectly yay

Jonathan Underwood - 14:21
If cutting OCLC cataloging since it is so expensive, what are the best viable options?

Beth Downing - 14:21
I primarily weed only superseded items. We are a preservation steward,, and receive a large number of the remaining print distibution titles and have full, or almost full holdings of these historic titles. I have no plans to weed any of these titles except the CFR after 5 years.

Alicia Kubas - 14:22
hi everyone! alicia from GPO here. i did want to provide some clarification about the weeding requirements of physical vs. online government publications/records: libraries may curate, weed, delete, or otherwise manage records for online government publications as useful. the tangible weeding guidelines are completely separate and do not apply to the online content.

Sarah Dobransky - 14:22
We paid for the MARCIVe authority records, and now I'm not sure how we'll update the ILS

Sam Wassink - 14:22
@Amy great question

Charlie she-her Amiot - 14:22
That's the free space, Susanne!

Charlie she-her Amiot - 14:22
Just a heads up for everyone we seem to be experiencing different lengths of delays and issues. It is not uniform at all.

Kathy Piselli - 14:22
invisibility

Kim Allen - 14:22
We're almost wholly digital

Trina Magi - 14:22

Our catalog could use some clean-up--things like deleting duplicate records or getting serials onto a serials record. I think Marcive used to provide these services (for a fee). Does anyone know of another vendor who can help with this?

Lawrence Mello - 14:22
I am one who went totally digital at the same time GPO went Digital and we were not having any issues but that was before MARCIVE announced their closing down as they uploaded my digital records to our consortia in FL.

Kaylee Erdos - 14:22
You can also find the slides from the side panel, under the Handouts Tab

Mary Jo Heacock - 14:22
We no longer receive print. Electronic records come from Cassidy Cataloging and gov doc electronic records are included in these.

Morgan Mangold - 14:22
What kind of training is out there for (us) cataloging staff on this?

Kim Allen - 14:22
We have room for our print collections, but we are actively retroconning older titles in preparation for migrating to a new ILS.

Trina Magi - 14:22
As an academic research library, we're not weeding our print gov info collection. We get many historical questions from our faculty and students.

Betty Monterroso - 14:23
Right now it looks like we will go with using FDM record sets, but we are still trying to figure out how to handle changed records. Especially since the FDM records do not contain OCLC numbers which is what we usually use for duplicate resolution.

Wendy Robertson - 14:23
Discord would work easily - a channel for public a channel for academic etc - I personally find Discord much easier to use than Slack

Marie Concannon - 14:23
I hope we can get the content of this chat as a text file. The questions are excellent.

Mary Jo Heacock - 14:23
Not currently weeding print collection. But when the time comes, we have to offer them before they can be weeded...Correct?

Morgan Mangold - 14:24
Where should (us) catalogers be getting training for this service change? Sorry if this has been answered in previous months, I am new to helping our gov docs specialist with this effort

Amy Singer - 14:24

I agree @Wendy

Gwen Sinclair - 14:24
+1 Marie

Gina Long - 14:24
@Wendy I second that about Discord. Slack has been much less user-friendly since it got aquired. Discord is much easier to navigate, too

Susanne Caro - 14:24
Marie- I'm trying to copy the chat as we go, I can see about having it posted if it doesn't get recorded

Troy Black - 14:25
We used to be in the CRDP for records but we are considering using the FDLP Data Manager for our catalog records. We have been an all digital FDLP since 2015. We have a small print legacy collection of historical materials. Depsitory since 1963

Rich Gause - 14:25
everyone who is weeding older materials, please keep in mind the preservation stewards and similar libraries for possible recipients. and help out by identifying what you have they might want.

Robin Mize - 14:25
We are almost wholly digital. New titles are digital only

Beth Downing - 14:25
Sarah Dobransky Same here re: authority records. Seems to be much more difficult than the GPO records.

Mary Jo Heacock - 14:26
We get our electronic records from Hein through Cassidy Cataloging and some of those include gov doc electronic records, but I am not sure how those titles are chosen.

Christine Fletcher - 14:26
We are going al digital adn are looking into the OCLC GPO online recrods collection.

Kelly Smith - 14:26
Just a general encouragement for folks to consider linking to online resources such as FDLP Resource Guides and other FDLP libraries' libguides to complement their holdings, esp. in situations like Becki's where they don't have access to their own libguides platform.

Beth Downing - 14:26
We records from Marcive, both new and changed. My understanding is that the records from both OCLC and the GPO Data Manager would include them as well.

Debra Gomes - 14:27
We can also use OCLC KB collections to set up an automatic feed. You can either grab MARC records or if you're a WMS library, the records will automatically be added to your catalog.

Mary Jo Heacock - 14:27
Yes, both the gpo publishing info and hein publishing are in the record. in 2 separate 264 fields

David Cox - 14:28
We don't have a GovDocs section, instead integrating our materials in our general LC call number collection. So we definitely have a lot of older materials in there, weeding is a bit more complex

Kate Pitcher - 14:28
FDM does contain OCLC numbers

Olga Fryzel-Almaraz - 14:28
I'm also interested in cataloging training. Any avialable training is appreciated.

Kim Allen - 14:29
Another vote for Discord

JoAnna McCulley - 14:29
I like discord too

Wendy Robertson - 14:29
changed records are here on github - https://github.com/usgpo/cataloging-records-CGP-maintenance-files/tree/main/CGP_Records_Monthly_Files

Judy Din - 14:29
Investigate the services of Backstage Library Works as replacement for MARCIVE's services

Betty Monterroso - 14:30
@Kate, it's been a while since I looked at them, but it's possible that they are in a field not easily matched. In the ones I exported, only a few had OCLC numbers if I recall correctly.

Michelle Colquitt - 14:30
Thank you, everyone! I love working with the CDSS. <3

Amy Fitch - 14:30
Thank you

Marina Bacchetti - 14:30
Thank you.

Thank!

Dominique Hallett - 14:30
thank you

Jocelyn Baldwin - 14:30
We have used Backstage but only for forign language items

Charlie she-her Amiot - 14:30
Well done to the presenters for handling the WebEx issues!

Stephen Kharfen - 14:30
Thank you very much.

Kate Pitcher - 14:30
Betty - I can get you in touch with Ashley Dahlen

Charlie she-her Amiot - 14:31
Thanks GPO for troubleshooting!

Mary Rudman - 14:31
Thanks Kelly! I missed the last half of this session because I couldn't get in without using an incognito browser.

Ella Shurr - 14:31
Thank you!
