from Beth Callahan to everyone: 2:29 PM
Didn't work

from Yan Liao to everyone: 2:29 PM
I'm weeding in the Y 4. How do I contact GPO about your needs? I do submit lists to eXchange and open to national requests.

This is the permalink to the GPO needs list LibGuide: <https://libguides.fdlp.gov/c.php?g=892778>

from Beth Callahan to everyone: 2:30 PM
Does GPO pay for postage if we send things to you from your needs list?

from Brylynn Ellis to everyone: 2:31 PM Yay ISL!

from Brent Abercrombie to everyone: 2:31 PM
Thank you for visiting!

from Daniel Cornwall to everyone: 2:32 PM

If you get regional publications, be sure to check the CGP and report a document if not found!

from Scott Matheson to everyone: 2:33 PM

@Brent - thank you for digitizing the GLO records!

from Trina Magi to everyone: 2:33 PM

In the process of digitizing, are the items destroyed? Or can we lend them to GPO and get them back?

from Suzanne Ebanues to everyone: 2:34 PM

FDP partnerships page: <https://fdlp.gov/collaborations-with-gpo/partnerships>

from Rich Gause to everyone: 2:35 PM

GPO also covers cost for sending materials to official preservation stewards, correct?

from Suzanne Ebanues to everyone: 2:36 PM

FCC Record on GovInfo: <https://www.govinfo.gov/collection/fcc-record?path=/GPO/FCC%20Record>

from Jessica Robinson to everyone: 2:38 PM

What software do you use to harvest the monographs? Is there a particular format it looks for?

from Suzanne Ebanues to everyone: 2:38 PM

CMR collection on GovInfo: <https://www.govinfo.gov/app/collection/cmr>

from Dominique Hallett to everyone: 2:38 PM

I was looking at this last week. Easy to use and a great collection to point people to

from Lucy Duhon to everyone: 2:43 PM

Just a theoretical question - w regard to Executive agency content, if Dept of Education is dismantled (Project2025), would that fast-track/prioritize your digitizing efforts or could it halt it completely?

from Mark Hamilton to everyone: 2:48 PM

What are RFCs in this context?

from Megan Minta to everyone: 2:48 PM

RFC stands for Requests for Change

from Shawn King to everyone: 2:59 PM

Do you also have a link to the Public Law that created the legal authority or would you have to search that separately?

from Daniel Cornwall to everyone: 2:59 PM

Not seeing the spreadsheet.

from Mary Ries to everyone: 3:01 PM

If new subject headings are issued or updated by LC, are the CMR document subject headings updated?

from Amy Ruhe to everyone: 3:01 PM

yes

from Daniel Cornwall to everyone: 3:01 PM
Yay!

from Bert Chapman to everyone: 3:01 PM
Yes

from Mark Hamilton to everyone: 3:04 PM
What was your search again? something-something year:1950?

from Mark Hamilton to everyone: 3:07 PM
Never mind, I got it (the search)

from Joshua Olsen to everyone: 3:08 PM collection:STATUTE was the first parameter. The second was a date function, but I can't remember how it was formed.

from Sinai Wood to everyone: 3:08 PM
,1950

from Jennifer Morgan to everyone: 3:09 PM
RSS for rulemaking -- very cool!

from Lucy Duhon to everyone: 3:09 PM
I love the RSS feature!

from Mark Hamilton to everyone: 3:10 PM
publishdate:1950

from Jessica Robinson to everyone: 3:10 PM
Thank you!

from Lucy Duhon to everyone: 3:11 PM
Thank you!

from Amanda Dunn to everyone: 3:12 PM
Here was the Statutes search over digitized volumes: collection:STATUTE publishdate:range(,1950)

from Gwen Sinclair to everyone: 3:12 PM
Are there plans to create new GovInfo webinars and tutorials? The existing ones are a few years old.

from Joshua Olsen to everyone: 3:12 PM
Thanks! Where can we find a list/documentation of these govinfo search parameters?

from Mark Hamilton to everyone: 3:12 PM
Thank you Amanda!

from Jon Quandt to everyone: 3:13 PM
You can start here, which has information on general field operators.

from Jon Quandt to everyone: 3:13 PM
<https://www.govinfo.gov/help/search-operators>

from Shawn King to everyone: 3:14 PM
But it's not hyperlinked from the legal authority field?

from Heidi Ramos to everyone: 3:14 PM
There is also specific collection field operators listed on each collections help page -
<https://www.govinfo.gov/help/whats-available>

from Jon Quandt to everyone: 3:14 PM
Note that there are a number of collection-specific field operators that are findable on the individual collection help pages. Additionally, the Advanced search functionality provides an easy way to learn about field operators - create the search and you will see an underlying field operators

from Joshua Olsen to everyone: 3:14 PM
Perfect, Thanks Jon!

from Amy Ruhe to everyone: 3:15 PM
Thank you!

from Min Shaheen to everyone: 3:15 PM
Thank you.

from Jon Quandt to everyone: 3:15 PM
Here's a direct link to an advanced search that will limit by the STATUTE collection and with dates prior to 1950. If you hit search, you will see the specific field operators used:
<https://www.govinfo.gov/#advanced?ash=%7B%22collections%22:%5B%22STATUTE%22%5D,%22date%22:%7B%22dateTo%22:%221950%22,%22t%22:%22DB%22%7D,%22fields%22:%5B%7B%22v%22:%22%22,%22p%22:0%7D%5D%7D>

from Cassandra Wenzel to everyone: 3:15 PM
