We're only talking about this process being applied to limited print items , right?

from Cynthia Etkin to everyone: 1:09 PM

That's correct, Elizabeth.

from Alexis Carlson to everyone: 1:11 PM

Are all limited print titles not available digitally?

from William Sudduth to everyone: 1:15 PM

For the NCSA-South is that 10 calendar or working days?

from Amy Laub to everyone: 1:15 PM

ten working days

from Cynthia Etkin to everyone: 1:15 PM

@ Alexis, most of the title are available online.

from William Sudduth to everyone: 1:16 PM

For the NCSA-South if two regionals have a shared working agreement are both regionals involved in the "meeting of the minds"?

from Amy Laub to everyone: 1:17 PM

@Bill They should be

from Amy Laub to everyone: 1:18 PM

GPO is writing the "meeting of the minds" portion of the process

from Amy Laub to everyone: 1:19 PM

@Bill yes

from Cynthia Etkin to everyone: 1:21 PM

@ Bill - with feed back from the steering committees.

from Andrea Stelljes to everyone: 1:27 PM

Is the Midwest the only NCSA with public library representation? Just curious about the membership

from Amy Laub to everyone: 1:28 PM

Kentucky has one selective that is a public library and I know other states have public libraries that are FDLs

from Andrea Stelljes to everyone: 1:29 PM

I meant the Steering Committee membership, sorry for the confusion

from Kate Pitcher to everyone: 1:29 PM

Andrea, yes the MW is the only Steering Committee with a public library representative from Arlene Weible to everyone: 1:29 PM

Thank you Jen for representing the West so well!

from Joshua Finnell to everyone: 1:29 PM

We do not, currently, have public library representation on the NE steering committee. However, we would welcome that representation as our current members rotate off. We have 43 public library depositories in the NE.

from Charlie she-her Amiot to everyone: 1:30 PM

This has been no small feat for all involved. Thank you to everyone working on this for the rest of us!

from Carolyn Frenger to everyone: 1:30 PM
+1 Charlie : )

from Kate Pitcher to everyone: 1:31 PM
A few titles on the limited print list are only available in print: Nautical Almanac, Astronomical Phenomena, Astronomical Almanac

from Jen Kirk to everyone: 1:31 PM
Steering Committee members are appointed by GPO. The West does not currently have a public library member on the Steering Committee. We do have two State Librarians on the West SC

from Jen Kirk to everyone: 1:31 PM
State Library Librarians*

from Elizabeth Williams to everyone: 1:31 PM Limited Print isn't all print. GPO is still distributing quite a bit of legal material as unlimited print.

from Daniel Cornwall to everyone: 1:32 PM @Jen - Thanks for the clarification. Could also say Staff from State Library Agencies. :-)

from Kate Pitcher to everyone: 1:32 PM
Elizabeth, that is correct. There are 9 titles that are still unlimited distribution

from Jen Kirk to everyone: 1:32 PM
Yep, typing too fast, sorry Daniel! :)

from Jennifer McLean to everyone: 1:32 PM
Will all limited print titles eventually stopped?

from Charlie she-her Amiot to everyone: 1:33 PM
It's still early days, but where does it look like there may be issues in carrying everything out?

from Charlie she-her Amiot to everyone: 1:33 PM
*So we can try to avoid them!

from Sarah Causey to everyone: 1:33 PM
Thanks again to the NCSA standing committee members! For Amy, what was the reasoning in the NCSA South to have Regional Libraries spearhead the offering effort rather than handling the decisions within the steering committee, as the others seem to have done?

from Cynthia Etkin to everyone: 1:34 PM
We tried to get a diversity of library types and sizes of libraries. GPO put out a call for people who were interested in serving on steering committees. GPO appointments were made from that list.

from Kate Pitcher to everyone: 1:34 PM

We do not have plans at this point to stop distribution of these limited print titles, but many factors go into these decisions, including (but not limited to) agency decisions to go to print, costs of printing, and availability online

from Charlie she-her Amiot to everyone: 1:36 PM

Flexibility. There's gov info to help with that. ;D <https://www.nccih.nih.gov/health/yoga-effectiveness-and-safety>

from Andrea Stelljes to everyone: 1:36 PM

+1 Cindy. Thank you! I remember that now

from Jen Kirk to everyone: 1:37 PM

great share, Charlie!

from Daniel Cornwall to everyone: 1:37 PM

@Charlie - Funny!

from Bernadine Abbott Hoduski to everyone: 1:37 PM

what are you doing to assure preservation of the print versions

from Charlie she-her Amiot to everyone: 1:38 PM

eBook too! <https://www.nccih.nih.gov/health-info/yoga-for-health-ebook>

from Kate Pitcher to everyone: 1:38 PM

Addressing preservation of the limited print titles going forward will be part of the collection management planning that the steering committees are working on

from Kate Pitcher to everyone: 1:39 PM

As well as in concert with GPO's ongoing partnership programs, including our outreach efforts to obtain Preservation Steward agreements for these titles

from Marija Gudauskas to everyone: 1:46 PM
Three titles were moved from the limited print distribution list to unlimited: Nautical Almanac, Astronomical Phenomena, Astronomical Almanac
How will this impact those libraries who were allocated to receive these titles through the limited distribution framework?

from Marija Gudauskas to everyone: 1:47 PM
Yes, thanks Jen! My thoughts as well.

from Jen Kirk to everyone: 1:47 PM
Thanks, Marija. :)

from Kate Pitcher to everyone: 1:47 PM
Correct, they were moved because they are only available in print at this time.

from Bernadine Abbott Hoduski to everyone: 1:48 PM
WHY ARE NO FEDREAL LIBRARIES ON THESE COMMITTEES

from Charlie she-her Amiot to everyone: 1:48 PM
That's due to copyright issues, correct?

from Kate Pitcher to everyone: 1:49 PM
These three titles will be considered the same as the other titles on the Unlimited Titles list. Libraries wishing to receive the three titles will continue to do so.

from Kate Pitcher to everyone: 1:49 PM
The copyright is owned by the UK Naval Office

from Daniel Cornwall to everyone: 1:52 PM
I think that the difficulty in recruiting steering committee members is a symptom of the general lack of activity in the community. Possibly powered by the serious drop in full-time documents librarians. Says the Continuing Resources Librarian with 10% official govdocs time.

from Marie Concannon to everyone: 1:52 PM
It's really great to be on a committee with people from closely neighboring states!

from Gwen Sinclair to everyone: 1:52 PM
+1 Daniel

from Jen Kirk to everyone: 1:52 PM
You contribute a lot of impact with that 10% Daniel. :)

from Elissa Lawrence to everyone: 1:52 PM
+1 Daniel

from Charlie she-her Amiot to everyone: 1:52 PM
@Daniel, the pandemic really made a dent in the law librarian gov info activities.

from Charlie she-her Amiot to everyone: 1:53 PM
Are there any agency librarians attending? Are agency librarians supported within their agencies to take on such roles?

from Joshua Finnell to everyone: 1:54 PM
Especially in the NE. ;0

from Charlie she-her Amiot to everyone: 1:54 PM
The silence is ominous.
